House Hurries to Give Davey Quiz Of State Affairs

Governor's Bitter Attack On 'Hatchet Men' In Senate Followed By Drive By Supporters For Quick Action For Inquiry to Bare Everything In Government, Politics.

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gov. Martin L. Davey's proposal for a sweeping investigation of the state government, including legislators, lobbying and politics, was recommended for passage today by the house finance committee.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—Gov. Martin L. Davey's supporters pushed for quick action in the pro-administration house of representatives today on his demanded investigation of state government, politics and lobbying.

Charging an "ugly conspiracy" against his administration, the governor last night requested creation of a law setting up a nine-member board of inquiry "to lay everything bare before the public gaze."

Lieut. Gov. Paul P. Yoder, former Atty. Gen. John W. Bricker, Republican gubernatorial candidate in 1936, and 11 state senators were named by Davey in a verbal indictment of his political foes, delivered before a crowd which packed the house chambers, and broadcast over a 15-station state radio network. He also attacked the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Akron Beacon-Journal and five Ohio Scripps-Howard newspapers.

The house finance committee prepared to consider today a bill appropriating $100,000 and setting up the investigation machinery. It was introduced, a few minutes after Davey spoke, by Rep. Bishop Kilpatrick (D, Trumbull), house majority leader.

Democrats generally friendly to Governor Davey control the house and prompt passage of the inquiry bill was expected. It faced an uncertain fate, however, in the senate, which now has a special committee attempting to uncover evidence of "legalized graft" in the state government.

Hits 'Smoke-Screen.'

The governor was sharply critical of the so-called senate "hatchet men," an insurgent bloc which sponsored the graft probe, and charged them with neglecting urgent relief legislation and the need for supplemental state appropriations.

He expressed doubt that the senate investigation "would be fair or honest" and asserted it "is partly a smoke-screen to divert public attention from the sins of certain sinners."

Senators mentioned by Davey quickly denied his charges that they sought to exchange their votes for administration favors or patronage or were under the control of lobbyists.

Yoder, described as "tricky" and "shifty" by the governor, said he would not enter into any controversy.

Bricker, expected to seek the Republican gubernatorial nomination this year, asserted there was "absolutely no truth" in the governor's reference to him.

After urging that the inquiry cover the Democratic and Republican state organizations, Davey declared:

"I propose that this investigation go into the campaign funds of sanctimonious Mr. Bricker and the alleged contributions by liquor and gambling interests."

Concerning Yoder, Davey added:

"Let's find out who pays his expenses and who contributes to

Metcalf Mapping Reply to Davey

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Sen. Verner E. Metcalf (D-Washington), senate Republican leader, said today two-thirds of the 15 Ohio radio stations which carried Gov. Martin L. Davey's address last night had agreed to grant time for an answer to the executive's charges against the special senate investigating committee.

Metcalf reported, however, it would be necessary to raise sufficient money to pay for wire leases.

Davey 'Lies' and Talks Like a 'Foolish Woman,' Senators Say

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The tongue-lashing given by Gov. Martin L. Davey to "hatchet men" of the Ohio senate brought quick comebacks from most of them today.

Governor Davey's remarks and the comment follow:

Governor: Sen. William M Boyd (D., Cuyahoga) "was convicted of embezzlement in Cleveland and given a suspended sentence . . . He is completely under the control of the lobbyist of the Hanna Coal company."

Boyd: The embezzlement case involved a factional fight in a lodge; the money was withheld and returned, and "I was absolved of all culpability in 1933."

Governor: Sen. H. D. Byrne (D., Portage) "made the brazen proposition in my office that he would vote for anything we wanted, if we would help him get elected president of Kent State university, for which he is hopelessly unfitted."

Byrne: (Who sought to interrupt the governor) "A deliberate falsehood."

Governor: Sen. Emerson Campbell (D, Belmont) "likewise is a puppet of the Hanna Coal company."

Campbell could not be reached for comment.

Governor: Sen. John F. Connolly (D., Lucas) "was willing to sell his votes in exchange for patronage and other favors."

Connolly: (No comment available).

Governor: Sen. Tom L. Gallagher (D, Cuyahoga) "has been running an auto license tag agency in his brother's name. . . . He also demanded some rather profitable business in the highway department."

Gallagher: "An auto license bureau was awarded to my brother, who was a loyal supporter of Davey, and when I failed to cooperate with Davey on the appropriation bill he took the agency away from my brother."

Governor: Sen William F. Hurley (D-Lorain) 'Hounded the liquor department to give a club license to an individual in Lorain who had no club at all. . . . . He did not secure the license. . . . He seems to have been owned body and soul by the lobbyists."

Hurley: Could not be reached for comment, but his wife sought to protest as the governor spoke.

Governor: Sen. Maurice W Lipscher (D-Mahoning) Sought to obtain dismissal of an indictment against a doctor indicted for defrauding an insurance company.

Lipscher: No comment

Governor: Sen. George M. Morris (D.-Franklin) "Demanded that we discharge a valued and capable civil service employe in the department of education, against whom he has a deep-seated hatred."

Morris shouted, "Liar! Liar again!" as the governor mentioned him.

Sought 'Improper Favors.'

Governor: Sen J. Ralph Seidner (D-Mahoning) "Insisted on a pardon (for a man sent to the

Girl Bandit Beats and Robs 65-Year-Old Loudonville Man

(News-Journal Special)

LOUDONVILLE—A girl bandit beat and robbed a 65-year-old Loudonville man here yesterday afternoon while two women accomplices and a man watched from a parked automobile in which they later fled.

Authorities throughout the state were notified by Marshal Bert Conrad of the hold-up and asked to be on the lookout for the quartet. They escaped with $11.

Sherman Stout, 65, the victim, was returning home from a grocery store with packages in both hands. A large blue sedan was parked at the corner of East Busstle and South Wood streets.

As Stout walked along side the car, the young woman jumped out and started scratching and hitting him, he told the marshal. While he was attempting to protect himself from the attack and still hold on to the groceries, the girl removed his wallet, he said.

Stout, bleeding from scratches about the face and hands, saw the girl jump into the waiting auto and speed away.

Miss Elizabeth Richey, school teacher who witnessed the hold-up, notified Miss Florence Sidle, grade school principal, who called Marshal Conrad.

Find Missing Ford Official's Daughter

POLICE LEARN SHE ELOPED; SEARCH ENDS

Daughter of Ford Executive Wed Secretly as Family Launches Hunt.

FATHER 'BROKEN UP'

Dad Had Previously Discarded Marriage Theory, Believed Girl Was Abducted.

YPSILANTI, Mich.—(UP)—Gertrude Bennett, 17-year-old daughter of Harry Bennett of the Ford Motor company, was married last night to Russell Hughes at Auburn, Ind., it was announced at the Bennett home today.

The marriage was performed by Justice of the Peace Miles Baxter at Auburn shortly after the couple, who had eloped from here earlier in the evening, had obtained a license, according to Capt. Don Leonard of the state police.

Marriage Confirmed.

The marriage was confirmed, Leonard said, shortly after the Bennett home was informed by United Press that the couple had obtained a marriage license.

Leonard informed Bennett, one of the highest paid executives of the Ford organization, and reported that Bennett was "broken up" by the news.

Bennett had believed that Gertrude, missing nearly 20 hours when word of the marriage arrived, would not elope or would call him if she intended marriage.

Bennett, Leonard said, was so shaken by the news that he had no comment to make. He asked newspapermen to "let me alone for a few hours."

Gave Wrong Date.

Leonard said that Gertrude had given her birth date at May 2, 1918. Her correct birth date is May 2, 1919. The inaccuracy, he believed, was to make her age 18 instead of 17.

Her license application gave her father's occupation as employed by the Detroit Edison company, instead of the Ford company.

Hughes said his father was employed in Chicago. At his home near here, Hughes has been living with his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Routson.

Leonard said the family was not informed where the couple went after the marriage.

He's Not 'Ersking' Them, He's Telling Them, Says President

—Central Press Photo.

It was a smiling, confident President Roosevelt who delivered, in person, his message to the third session of the 75th congress yesterday, asserting that unless capital ceased its "abuse" of power it would destroy itself, and called for capital and labor to co-operate with the government. At the conclusion of his address, he told Representative Bertrand H. Snell, New York, Republican floor leader, "As they say on the east side of New York, that's not ersking 'em, that's telling them."

DOUBLES FORCE

Hudson, Making New Low-Cost Car, Adds 6,000 Men.

DETROIT —(UP)—Hudson Motor Car company announced today it will redouble its present working force and spend $11,000,000 in the next few weeks in production of a new, low-priced automobile.

The announcement was made by A. E. Barit, president of the company, at a special meeting of dealers and publishers here.

The present working force is 6,000 men, Barit said. This will be doubled and stepped up to full-time production, he said, as part of a plan to "put men and money back to work."

"It has become increasingly clear to us that with business slowing down as it has been recently, we were in a position to do more than announce a new automobile—we could set the pace in the matter of putting men and money back to work," Barit said.

BURNED TO DEATH

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ed Lewis, 45, of West Jefferson, prisoner in the Columbus workhouse, burned to death late yesterday. Workhouse officials said Lewis' clothing became ignited as he stood beside a bonfire.

HUNTER NAMES 7 TO CITY JOBS

3 Republicans Re-Appointed By Mayor; Linham to Stay As Garbage Plant Head.

Seven additional appointments to city offices, three of which completed the personnel of the water, sewer and garbage department, were announced today by Mayor Claude M Hunter.

Three of the appointees, employed by the city at present, are Republicans. The others are Democrats.

Lester L. Linham, 32 Florence avenue, superintendent of the garbage disposal plant was re-appointed. Linham, a Republican, was named head of the plant by former Mayor Earl A. McFarland two years ago.

Two new assistant operators at the plant, both Democrats, appointed by Hunter are John H. Dir, 62 Prospect street, and Frank A. Miller, 248 West Fifth street. G. Victor Sowers, a Republican, was retained as a clerk at the garbage disposal plant.

The other Republican appointee is John L. Hess, 44 Arthur avenue, renamed bookkeeper in the sewer department. Hess was active in the last Republican campaign.

George L. Bolesky, 181 Newman street, a former councilman, was appointed superintendent of sewer maintenance. Hunter said that the sewer job had not been filled for the past few months since the resignation of Charles Gandert, who had been named to the position by McFarland.

With the naming of Bolesky to the post, Hunter said he plans to

BEGINS TERM IN WORKHOUSE

Woman Tavern Operator Starts Sentence After Long Fight.

Free for nearly seven months after she was sentenced last June on a delinquency charge, Mrs. Angeline Nezrick, operator of the Carioca tavern on Weyne street, was taken to Toledo today by Sheriff E P Long to begin a 90-day workhouse sentence.

Convicted in probate court of contributing to the delinquency of a minor by permitting a 16-year-old boy to loiter in her tavern, Mrs. Nezrick was sentenced by Judge C. J. Anderson last June 11.

Through her counsel, Atty. J. V. Will, she carried her case to the Ohio supreme court which affirmed the original sentence three weeks ago.

SEES DARK DAYS

WPA Official Estimates Relief Rolls to Hit 1,900,000.

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The senate unemployment committee today spread on its record details of the sharpest winter decline in employment in recent years and a prediction by Assistant WPA Administrator Corrington Gill that relief rolls would jump to 1,900,000 in February.

Calls First Gathering Of City's 'Official' Family

Hunter Says Administration's Policies to Be Outlined At Meeting of Department Heads This Week.

The first "official family" gathering of department heads of the new Democratic city administration for the purpose of outlining administration policies and selecting various departmental personnel will be held "sometime this week," Mayor Claude M. Hunter announced today.

Hunter said the new department heads were busy today taking inventory of equipment and the personnel of their departments and when completed, they would meet in his office for a general organization meeting.

Will Submit Applications.

At that time, Hunter who was still besieged today with job seekers, said he would present to department heads the list of applicants for jobs he has interviewed in the last two days.

"What changes will be made in the various departments, I am unable to say at this time," Hunter said. "Each application will be gone over and fullest consideration will be given to the person best qualified for the positions recommended to be filled by the heads of the departments."

Hunter said he was still interviewing the applicants for jobs but had made no promises of placing anyone until after the meeting.

ROUTE CLOSED

Detour Ordered on 13 as Work On Bellville Span Starts.

A detour was in effect today on route 13 from Mansfield to Bellville with the beginning of work on a bridge project at the northern limits of Bellville, Boyd F. Wierman, resident engineer of the state highway department, announced.

The highway will be closed to through traffic for approximately four months, Wierman said, with traffic to be detoured south from Mansfield over route 42 to Orchard park and then to Bellville over route 97.

Persons residing along route 13 north from Bellville will continue to use the highway from the north entrance.

Contract for construction of the new concrete bridge to replace a narrow, steel structure at Bellville was awarded several weeks ago to the Purdy Construction company, Mansfield, for $47,000.

G-MEN CAPTURE 2 DESPERADOES

Apprehend Convicts Who Fled Prison 11 Months Ago.

SANFORD, N. C.—(AP)—The game was up today for Bill Payne and Wash Turner, North Carolina desperadoes, who had eluded officers for nearly eleven months.

G-men captured the escaped convicts yesterday without firing a shot.

Payne and Turner, though armed, offered no resistance when three carloads of federal bureau of investigation agents swooped down on them on a main thoroughfare.

Payne and Turner were wanted on charges of bank robbery, murder, kidnaping and highway robbery.

REACH FRANCE

Bodies of War Correspondents to be Brought to U. S.

HENDAYE, FRANCO-SPANISH FRONTIER—(AP)—The bodies of three war correspondents killed while covering the Spanish insurgent advance on Teruel were brought across the border into France today.

Those of two Americans, Edward J. Neil of the Associated Press, and Bradish Johnson of the magazines "Spur" and "Newsweek," were on their way to the United States, and that of E. R S. Sheepshanks of Reuters (British News Agency), was being taken to England.

LOAN DORMANT

Sandusky Gets $1,515,000 Light Plant Fund; Can't Use It.

SANDUSKY —(UP)— Sandusky today had a loan of $1,515,000 from the federal government to build a municipal light plant, but could not use it.

Voters last November refused to approve an amendment to the city charter to permit building of the plant. City officials here today said they believed the project was dead as the voters twice had refused to permit amendment of the charter for the plant.

PASSES SCHOOL APPROPRIATION

Board Sets Up $192,448 to Meet Operating Costs in Next Three Months.

A temporary appropriation providing for expenditures totaling $192,448 by Mansfield schools during the next three months was passed last night by the board of education.

Drawn up by Dr. John H Bristor, clerk of the board, the appropriation will be certified to the county auditor and will provide an operating schedule for the schools until the annual appropriation is set up before April 1.

The first quarter 1938 general fund appropriation is only $669 higher than the amount set up for the first three months of last year. The bond retirement and interest items, however, were re-

DELAYED AGAIN

Tax Collection Won't Get Under Way Until Feb. 1.

Opening of the tax books for the collection of first-half 1937 real estate and public utility levies in Richland county will be delayed until Feb 1, County Treasurer John E Kolb said today.

The voting of several special school and village operating levies at the November election, which required the establishing of new tax rates, was responsible for the delay Kolb said.

Under the state schedule, first-half real estate tax collections are due to start in December and close by Jan. 20. It was originally planned to begin the collection Jan. 15.

Real estate taxes will be payable from Feb 1 to March 21 without penalty under the present set-up.

Senior High Graduates Class of 88 At Exercises Jan. 28

Acting on the recommendation of Supt W. L Miller, the Mansfield board of education last night provided for the graduation of 88 seniors at mid-year commencement exercises Jan. 28 in Senior high school auditorium.

The class, which includes 50 girls and 38 boys, has eight fewer members than the graduating class last January.

Dr. C. L Anspach, president of Ashland college, has been invited to deliver the commencement address, Mille. said. Harold W Arlin, president of the board of education, will present diplomas to the graduates.

Baccalaureate services for the class will be held Sunday night, Jan. 23, at the First Lutheran church, with Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of the church, delivering the sermon.

Members of the class are

Lucille Lauretta Akins, Sara Louise Alacca, Helen Faye Beer, Doris Juanita Betz, Elvine Elaine Blank, Ruth Lucille Bollman, Edna Louise Bookwalter, Jane Elizabeth Bond, Jessie Maebelle Bryner, Mary Elizabeth Campbell, Martha Jane Davey, Dorothy Margaret Dean, Betty Alice Dent, Thelma Elaine Dickson, Margaret Elizabeth Fiedler, Margaret Elaine Fox, Mary Marshall Gage, Kathleen Barbara Gehl, Eva Hager, Helen Louise Hasenzahl, Eileen Lucille Hill, Kathryn Ann Huber, Mildred Marie Johns, Madeleine Georgia Karkalik, Mary Louise Lantz, Myrta Elizabeth Levering, Margaret Ruth Loesch, Elinor Louise Longsdorf, Alice Louise Martin, June Elizabeth Mertz, Elaine Berniece Moore, Alma Jeannette Newsome, Jean Olive Oswalt.

FRIENDS JOIN FOES IN VIEWS ON MESSAGE

Foresee 'Truce' in Pledge to Co-Operate If 'Harmful' Practices Cease.

SOME RESERVE OPINION

Wait New Special Message on Business Legislation to Decide on Course.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Several Republican leaders joined the majority of Democratic congressmen today in terming "conciliatory" President Roosevelt's pledge of co-operation with business if the latter abandons "harmful" practices.

Some of the president's foes, however, criticized his economic views and said they would await his special message on business legislation before determining their course.

Administration lieutenants described Mr Roosevelt's speech at the opening of congress yesterday as constructive and reassuring. Senator McNary of Oregon and Representative Snell of New York, the Republican floor leaders, were among those who called it "conciliatory."

Compare Addresses.

Several members of both parties contrasted its tone with recent addresses by Secretary Ickes and Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson.

The latter officials had accused sections of big business of going "on strike" against government regulations. Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday:

"[illegible] business men and bankers) has displayed poor citizenship by engaging in practices which are dishonest or definitely harmful to society. This statement is straightforward and true. No person in any responsible place in the government of the United States today has ever taken any position contrary to it."

Senator Davis (R-Pa), commented that the president's speech must have been written "after he got the universally unfavorable reaction" to the declarations of Ickes and Jackson. Representative

Expert's Skill Brings Lost $27 to Ashland Woman

(News-Journal Special)

ASHLAND—The skill of a worker in the United States treasury department in identifying damaged money brought a check for $27 to Mrs Gertrude Armstrong of this city recently.

More than 14 years ago Mrs. Armstrong's father, the late C. A. Gortner, lost his pocketbook on the farm of Leroy Gongwer, near Mifflin.

Recently Gongwer plowed up a moldy bit of leather containing a pocket piece bearing Mr. Gortner's name and a mass of green mold. Gongwer turned it over to Mrs Armstrong, who in turn sent it to the treasury department.

It came to the attention of Miss Bertha Sherfy, government expert in reclaiming damaged money. The mass of mold, she found, had once been seven one dollar bills and one $20 bill, and a check for the full amount was sent to Mrs Armstrong.

Miss Sherfy and her eight expert assistants are called upon daily to reclaim from 100 to 150 cases of "lost" money. Sometimes it is a hunk of water soaked paper and mud and sometimes it is small charred fragments rescued from a fire.

HEARING SET

New Date Fixed For Re-Hearing of Ohio Bell Refund.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The state utilities commission today set tentatively for Jan 18 re-hearing of the $18,000,000 Ohio Bell telephone rate case. Counsel for the state said, however, that if any agreement was not reached with company attorneys Saturday on a procedure for introducing rate testimony it would be impossible to start hearings for several months.

SEEKS COURT POST

AS JAPANESE TOOK NANKING—Fires spurt into sky in Nanking as Japanese troops capture the city.

Japs Seek to Cut Off Chinese Retreat From Tsingtao

LAUNCH DRIVE ON IMPORTANT RAIL CENTER

Japanese Rout China's Army From Mountain, Push Ahead In Shangtung Province.

SHANGHAI—(U P)—Japanese armies drove across rich Shantung province today in a swift campaign against Suchow, important railroad junction in northern Kiangsu province.

A Japanese army spokesman asserted the Shangtung drive had reached Tawenkuo, 25 miles south of Taian, and a point six miles south of Feicheng, west of Tsinan.

The Domei (Japanese) news agency reported from Taian that the Japanese were extending their lines toward the almost devastated city of Tsingtao in an effort to cut off a Chinese retreat.

Routed From Mountains.

With the occupation of Tawenkuo, according to the reports, the Japanese routed the Chinese in the mountains near Chiehshou, 20 miles south of Feicheng at Wangchwang, 20 miles southwest of Feicheng, and at the Tsingshihkwan mountain pass, at the foot of China's sacred mountain of Taishan.

The Domei agency also claimed that the Japanese occupied Tushukowchen, on the Tsingtao-Tsinan railway.

Bitter fighting was reported to have taken place on the southern bank of the Wen river. According to Chines reports a large railway bridge over the river had been destroyed.

The next large city in the path of the Japanese drive was Yenchow, although the real objective was Suchow.

Japanese sources predicted that Suchow would fall and that the drive then would be extended to Chenkchow and thence to Hankow.

Airdrome Bombed.

The Japanese army spokesman asserted that 40 airlines had raided Hankow and bombed the airdrome.

The Japanese spokesman denied Chinese reports that Hangchow, about 115 miles southwest of Shanghai, had been recaptured by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies.

Meanwhile, in Shanghai Japanese authorities demanded controlling positions in the municipal government council of the international settlement today because of repeated anti-Japanese terrorism.

Four Japanese officials made a strong protest to the council, attributing new attacks on Japanese soldiers by Chinese "red terrorists" to inefficiency of settlement police.

SCHOOL BOARD RE-ELECTS ARLIN, NAMES BRISTOR FOR 30TH YEAR

Without a dissenting vote, members of the Mansfield board of education at their annual re-organization meeting last night re-elected Harold W. Arlin president and Dr John S. Hattery vice president of the board for 1938.

Dr. John H. Bristor was re-employed as clerk of the board for two years at his present salary of $1,900 a year, and J. B Moke was re-named superintendent of buildings for a two-year period at his present annual salary of 2500

Both of the appointive offices had previously been filled on a one-year basis. Although board members took no action on Bristor's request for an increase in salary, they voted him $150 per year additional for clerk hire and designated that a high school senior be employed in his office during the afternoons when class periods permit and possibly on Saturdays.

Dr. Bristor's re-appointment enables him to begin his 30th consecutive year as clerk of the board He was a member of the board for four years, beginning in 1908.

Moke has been superintendent of buildings and purchasing agent for the schools for 15 years.

Arlin, Hattery and Alvin H. Fankhauser, all re-elected to the board at the November elections for four-year terms, were sworn in by Bristor at last night's meeting.

Completing their re-organization for the year, board members adopted Bristor's suggestion for a monthly meeting schedule to replace the present twice-a-month sessions.

They set the third Monday of each month at 7:30 p. m as the new meeting time, moving the sessions up from 8 p. m. For the past year meetings have been held the first and third Monday nights of each month.

The resolution making the change empowers the clerk to all special meetings on short notice whenever necessary, with the sessions to be held at 5 p. m.

Few More Mansfield Parolees To Be Questioned In State Inquiry.

Questioning at Cleveland of former inmates of Mansfield reformatory in connection with the Ohio parole system investigation is due to wind up either today or tomorrow dispatches from that city said today.

Six paroled inmates, all of whom are in jail there on new charges or as parole violators, are still to be questioned according to John P Butler, assistant Cuyahoga county prosecutor. A number of others, still on parole, are expected to be questioned.

— No testimony has been developed, Cleveland advices said, to show that any inmates had paid money for paroles, although a number were said to have testified that they paid $1 for a 10-cent package of tabacco, from $10 to $25 to trusties for "preferred" cells and also had paid money to trusties to arrange for transfers from the institution to honor camps, although their records were bad

All of these charges brought prompt and sharp denials yesterday from Superintendent Arthur L. Glattke, who has been head of the reformatory here since 1935. He said all inmates had access to a commissary where tobacco and other items are sold at regular prices, and that he had "implicit faith" in the officers in charge of cell assignments and records. He said no trusty had anything to do with cell assignments, although it was possible for trusties employed in the record room to obtain advance knowledge of transfers and persuade inmates to pay them to "obtain" transfers already arranged through regular channels

But Most of 554 Freed From Alabama Prisons Return.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — Three major prisons in Alabama listed as "unreported" today 23 prisoners out of 554 who were granted Christmas paroles on man-to-man agreements that they would return.

Several have telephoned or telegraphed that they were delayed but on their way, and wardens were hopeful others would be heard from

Governor Bibb Graves started the practice of releasing "most worthy" prisoners at Christmas 12 years ago, with the understanding that they return after the new year.

CAT RAISES RAT

DANVILLE—(AP)—Three of the offsprings mothered by a grey cat here are nice enough kittens but the fourth is literally a rat.

The cat caught a baby wharf rat and gave it to her three kittens to play with. Now the rat nurses the kittens and the strangely assorted family lives in harmony.

OHIOAN SAYS HE WAS PLACED ON 'BANNED LIST'

Steelmaker Tells Senators Failure to Back Davey Cost Him In Sales.

COLUMBUS — (AP)— Testimony that a Youngstown steel manufacturer was denied repeatedly opportunities to bid on state purchases between 1935 and 1937, despite frequent requests for a chance at the business, provided a starting point today in the senate graft-hunting committee's investigation of contract lettings.

Thomas Farrell, president of the Sheet Metal Manufacturing company, asserted his firm's sales to the state totaled $11,272 in 1934 but dwindled to $1,134 in 1935, $209 in 1936 and none in 1937.

James Metzenbaum, committee counsel, stressed that the sharp drop in Farrell's state orders coincided with Gov. Martin L. Davey's term of office.

Metzenbaum introduced letters in which Farrell told Davey it was "current political gossip that you ordered us banned for lack of support," during the 1934 political campaign.

Tells of Answer.

Mrs. Myrna Smith, the governor's secretary, replied that Davey was "in utter ignorance" of the situation and would investigate, another letter showed. Farrell testified he still was unable to get a chance to bid.

Another time, Farrell testified, he wrote Davey that he and his brother, the late John J. Farrell, former Youngstown postmaster, were "lifelong Democrats," the financial mainstay of the party in Mahoning county" and asked "not for preferment" but only a chance to submit prices.

He finally was offered a chance to bid on 300 tons of steel sheets for auto license tags in November, 1937, Farrell continued, and submitted the low bid He was awarded a contract for only 150 tons, however, and two other firms got orders for 150 tons each at a higher price, the purchase being boosted to 450 tons.

Metzenbaum contended, in vigorously question Glenn A. Horn, superintendent of purchases, that the order was hiked in an effort to "placate" Farrell—who "raised so much hell"—and then "give the other boys the regular amounts at higher prices."

Horn insisted the transaction was entirely regular and denied there had been any effort to bar Farrell from bidding When Metzenbaum challenged his explanation as "not logical," Horn asked.

"Do you question my integrity?"

"No," replied the counsel, "but you are in the unfortunate position of some others; you had to do it."

GO TO GALION

35 Mansfield Kiwanians To Attend State Meeting.

Water Collection Opens, Initiates New Appointees

Appointees in the city water and sewer departments under the new administration were initiated into their duties with a water collection period opening today, the second way that they reported to become acquainted with office routine

Today is the first day for payment of 3,500 east side water and sewer bills for the past six months' service.

Ralph A Hughes, outgoing secretary of the water, sewer and garbage department, announced that his entire staff would remain on duty through Jan. 10 Appointments of the new employes become effective on Jan. 11.

The east side water and sewer collection period opening today will continue through Jan 15, and effects only consumers residing east of Main street. It is one of the four water and sewer collections made during the year.

FUNERAL THURSDAY

Funeral services for Emmett C. Fetterhoff, 74, who died Monday at the Shanabarger convalescent home, will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 10:30 a m. Wednesday, with burial in the Mansfield cemetery.

The Great Game of Politics

—By FRANK R. KENT

An Interesting Agreement.

WHILE IT is not possible to predict what this congress will or will not do, it is certainly safe to say that in its range, its cost and its departure from the accepted American doctrine of individual freedom, the crop control bill, passed by both branches in the extra session and now scheduled to emerge from the conference committee some time this month, easily stands alone.

* * *

The more this extraordinary measure is considered the more clearly it is revealed as the greatest of administration adventures into the field of planned economy. The complications of the proposal are such as to baffle general comprehension and it is entirely accurate to state that it is as little understood by the men who voted for it as any piece of legislation that ever came before congress. Nothing showed that more clearly than the brief debate that took place in December and which, as it is reviewed in the Congressional Record, seemed to reach the high-water mark in confusion.

* * *

Men who laboriously have read and carefully studied the two proposals now in process of being welded into one by the house and senate conferees, some of whom have expressed violent distaste for the whole business, are unable to explain or understand many of the more intricate provisions. However, they are agreed upon two or three basic facts One is that the bill will give the government a power so complete over all farm operations as to deprive the individual farmer of any freedom of action and render it impossible for him to use his land except as the government directs.

* * *

ORDINARILY, such a proposal would be extremely abhorrent to the American farmer. Ordinarily, there would be a revolt against conferring such immense power upon the government. It is proposed, however, to pay the individual farmer so much money for putting himself under government control that he will not only acquiesce in the exercise of this authority but like it. The avowed purpose of the administration is to improve the condition of the farmer by raising the price of farm products through curtailment of production. This, of course, clashes with the present administration drive against monopolistic price fixing, but it is none the less the fact.

* * *

ALMOST as astonishing as the things put into these bills is the thing left out—to wit, any provision for raising the enormous sums which must be expended. In neither bill is there any method for raising money so much as suggested. That little detail is left up to the committee on appropriations, which, up to date, naturally enough, has not even considered the matter, it being entirely unknown to anyone what the cost will be. The lowest estimate is half a billion a year, but, it is admitted, it may run as high as a billion and a half. Accepting the lowest estimate, the total for farm subsidies, loans and other activities of the department of agriculture for 1938 will be $1,035,000,000, not counting in the normal departmental expenses.

* * *

IT SEEMS incredible that in the present state of national affairs congress should enact so drastic and confused a proposal, the expense of which can only be guessed and the effect of which would be not only greatly to enhance the bureaucratic power of the government but establish a government machine of vast potential power, financed by federal funds. Yet, despite the fact that some of the strongest of the senatorial friends of the farmers oppose it and a great farm organization like the national grange is hostile, that—unless there is an awakening such as occurred last year on the court bill—is exactly what is about to happen.

* * *

IN ADDITION to the administration, there is back of the bill a very powerful farm and labor lobby. Announcement was made last week by Mr. M. W. Thatcher, of the National Farmers' union, after conference with the president, that a formal agreement between the farm union and the so-called Labor's Nonpartisan league, which is the CIO's political instrument, had been achieved by which each is to support the other's proposals in congress, thus insuring the enactment of both. This political co-operation between labor and agriculture against "business greed" was the thing the late Prof. Tugwell so strongly urged at the time he was high in the White House councils. It is the strategy enthusiastically favored by various Communistic leaders who supported Mr. Roosevelt in the last campaign.

* * *

AND IT IS pressure from that kind of combination, added to the White House weight, which will pass the crop control bill this month if, as expected, it does pass. It is interesting to note that Dr. Tugwell, original promoter of the farmer-labor political combination, has twice visited the White House in the past two weeks. It isn't only the announced agreement but the bill itself which is reminiscent of the professor at his Washington top. It may be that congress will see the connection. Perhaps the notion that the Tugwellian influence has ceased to exist is just an illusion.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Suggested entries and nominations for this open season on "bests" and "worsts," predictions, guesses, etc.:

Gest generally: "The Good Earth." Most significant as well as fine. "The Life of Emile Zola."

Dullest of the "A" films: "Another Dawn," known in Hollywood as "Another Yawn" . . . Best of the "mellers" "Night Must Fall"

Finest of the short subjects: Disney's "The Old Mill." . . .

Most nearly certain to win the palm for acting Spencer Tracy. . . . Among the women: Irene Dunne or Barbara Stanwyck. . . .

* * *

Most disappointing musical: "Broadway Melody of 1938." . .

Best Musical: "One Hundred Men and a Girl." . . .

Most discussed musical: "High, Wide and Handsome" . . . (And dog-gone, I still like it!)

Fastest rising star: Sonja Henie (who skated and smiled from nowhere in pictures to eighth ranking box-office draw—in less than a year!)

Unhappiest of the "goofy" comedies: "Double Wedding."

Finest of the unpatronized pictures: "Make Way for Tomorrow." . . . Runner-up, "Call It a Day." . . .

* * *

Going places: Cary Grant, Ray Milland, Franchot Tone. . . .

Ditto: Olympe Bradna, Marjorie Weaver, Andrea Leeds. . .

Most in need of a smash hit: Joan Crawford . . .

Favorite "character:" Etienne Giraudot. . . .

Perfect comedy team (if it could be arranged): Joan Davis and Ray Bolger—both rubber-legged . . .

Simplest of the season's greeting cards—and nicest because she wrote it herself: Gail Patricks" . . .

Most anticipated comeback of 1938: Norma Shearer's in "Marie Antoinette." . . .

Hollywood's forgotten man: William Shakespeare. . . .

Speaking of Japan—a correspondent there assures us that Gary Cooper in "Souls at Sea" had them standing in the aisles, but Robert Taylor doesn't rate.

OLD FRIEND LIES DEAD IN SPAIN

McLemore Writes About Neil, 'One of the Finest Fellows' He Ever Knew.

By HENRY McLEMORE

LOS ANGELES — (U.P.) — My friend, my rival, and one of the finest fellows who ever sat down to a typewriter, lies dead in Spain.

I can't write about sports today because I can't think about sports. All I can think about is Eddie Neil Eddie and I covered sports together for eight years. We tried to scoop each other and we tried to help each other. We worked together and we played together. We worked for rival news services, he for the Associated Press and I for the United Press. And to show you what sort of a fellow he was, he never let his organization down and yet he never let me down.

EDWARD J. NEIL, JR.

Eddie was a well known sportswriter when I first came to New York, yet he always seemed to have time to lend me, an unknown, a helping hand. I only wish I could have lent him a helping hand on that muddy road in Spain, when a shell made a direct hit on the car in which he was riding near the front.

* * *

THE MEMORIES of Eddie come thick and fast. The time we went bass fishing in New Hampshire and it took the two of us three hours to row a mile—because we had forgotten to pull up the anchor. And Eddie's remark when we discovered our error:

"And to think, Henry, that you and I not long ago were criticizing a crew that lost at Poughkeepsie."

Those nights Eddie and I sat before a typewriter, first at his house and then at mine, trying to write a play that would make us a fortune. It was to be a boxing play because boxing was Eddie's first love, and no one ever wrote of the game as he did. But we never got past the first few lines of this play because we always managed to start talking of something that interested us more than a fortune—at the moment.

It seems only yesterday that he called me up and told me that Helen, his wife, had a boy.

"We're going to call him Mike," his happy voice said, "because he's tougher than anything you ever saw at the Garden."

-Later Eddie called the baby "Powerhouse." He decided on this name the day he put a Scottie pup on the bed with the baby and the tiny fellow broke the Scottie's leg in an effort to pat and love him.

And it doesn't seem much more than yesterday that Eddie and I sat in the timing tower at Daytona Beach waiting for Sir Malcolm Campbell to have a try at the world's record. We put up a dollar apiece and guessed at his speed when he passed us.

"Two fifty," Eddie said when Bluebird went by. "Three hundred," I guessed.

"They ought to fire both of us," Eddie said later when he learned that Campbell had encountered mechanical trouble on the run and passed the timing tower at a speed barely above 150 mph.

* * *

IT WAS LIKE EDDIE to be where the shells were falling. He never was a "second-hand" newspaperman. One of the finest sports stories he ever wrote and one of the finest ever written was when he dared to come down the treacherous bob run at the 1932 winter Olympics at Lake Placid. None of the rest of us wanted a story that badly.

Cross Seven States To Play Two Games

BOZEMAN, Mont.—(AP)—To meet two basketball teams, the Montana Bobcats must: Buy railroad tickets 51 inches long; travel on five railroads, including one narrow gauge; cross seven states—Montana, Wyoming, South Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, Utah and Idaho.

Railroad officials said it was the shortest possible route. The Bobcats play Colorado college at Colorado Springs Friday and Saturday, and Western State college at Gunison, Colo., Monday and Tuesday.

MAGIC TIE, JERSEY HELP TEXANS TO 78 STRAIGHT

THE MEN

A junior college team from John Tarleton, in West Texas, started the 1937-38 season with the longest basketball winning streak in America. The Plowboys, using athletes eligible for two years only, had faced tough opposition and had won 78 straight games over four seasons. Their squads always have been small. Seven men reported to the current outfit.

THE METHOD

Words of Wisdom carried the youngsters to the heights—the talks of Coach W. J. Wisdom. Here's Tutor Bill diagraming a play. He tells the boys: "Keep the ball. Shoot only for sure shots. Force your opponents to shoot while they're off balance."

THE MAGIC

Wisdom's tie was a help. Four years ago he was given a 25-cent neckpiece. He wore it at every one of the 78 victories, and it got ragged from his twisting it at exciting moments. Plowboy jersey No. 13 is always worn by the star player. That helps, too.

THE MODE

It's the same story in basketball as in other sports—legs make the player. This shot of three Plowboys shows you Wisdom's idea of good basketball legs. It's not stylish now to wear the long stockings but, shucks, the Texans are old-fashioned. Their string started 'way back when.

Wolf, Wheeler Vie In Opener

Wednesday Card Topped By Double Wind-Up.

Wednesday night's mat card at the Armory was completed today with the signing of a 20-minute opener between Joe Wheeler and Joe Wolf.

Signing of these talented young stars completes one of the finest menus offered Mansfield wrestling followers in quite some time. The double main attraction sends Walter Stratton, Leetonia farmer, into action against Frankie Hart of Holland, and Joe Magyar of Hungary against the German sensation, George Wagner.

They call Joe Wheeler "the eel." That's just a name, but in this case it carries a lot more meaning than ordinarily. There is only one other man in the mat world who moves like Wheeler in this respect and that's John Pesek, NWA's heavyweight champion of the world.

Joe's favorite fall is a hunger is a whip-wrist-lock. Because of his height he can nearly flail the life out of an unfortunate opponent when he sets this hold. For in this particular grip, he maintains a great degree of leverage and he has brought about the downfall of many so-called big stars through its use.

Wolf is a product of football, the hard kind. For several seasons he held down a berth with a Columbus pro team that met the best there was to offer and that list included a game with the Portsmouth Spartans at Hamilton. The Spartans are now the Detroit Lions.

RIGGS MEETS DICKINSON

Expected to Meet Grant In Finals of Florida Tournament.

CORAL GABLES, Fla.—(AP)—Bobby Riggs, young Chicago net star, was pitted against R. Dickinson of Miami, Fla., in a headline match of the Miami Biltmore tennis tournament today.

Riggs drew a bye and lost Bryon M. (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta whom fans expect Riggs to meet in the finals, passed to the second round with an easy 6-1, 6-1 victory over Charles Carroll of Miami. Riggs is seeded No. 1 and Grant No. 2.

HOSTS TO COLORED CLUB

Ontario Sohioans Meet Oberlin Quintet Saturday.

The Ontario Sohioans managed by Mike Wentz, will face their toughest test of the season Saturday night when they meet an all-colored club of Oberlin in the Ontario high school gym. The Oberlin quintet is composed of former college and high school stars, Wentz said.

Former Tygers Star as Elks Upset Westinghouse In City League, 29-19

Canzols Chalk Up First Win By Defeating Mack's Pure Oils, 30 to 23.

By CHARLES MARTIN

THE ELKS club is riding along in second place in the torrid City Class A basketball league race today.

The sharpshooting Elkmen, paced by the old Mansfield high school combination of Lewis-Morgan-Hoff, turned on the power last night on the Tygers' hardwood to down the erstwhile runner-up Westinghouse Electric quintet, 29 to 19, before a small crowd, and remain only a game behind the league leading Yuncker Sports combine.

Chalk Up First Win.

In the opening tilt on the program, the Ira D. Ling Canzols chalked up their first City league triumph by defeating Mack's Pure Oils, 30 to 23. It was the Pure Oils' third straight defeat. The Yuncker outfit was idle.

Limiting the Westies to two field goals in the opening half, the Elks, strengthened by the addition of Freddy Lewis, who will be a mid-season graduate at Mansfield high, to the lineup, grabbed a commanding lead they were able to hold to the final whistle.

With Noel Morgan and Russ Hoff topping the club from the field, with eight points apiece, the Elks broke loose in the early minutes of the tilt, and after Vern Jones' Westies had knotted the score at 2-all, demonstrated some classy shooting to take a 12 to 5 lead at the half.

Unleashing a brilliant passing attack after the intermission, the winners continued to add points and piled up an 18 to 7 advantage before Inwood Smith parted the strings for the Westies' first goal.

Displaying a brand of basketball which established it as a dangerous scoring outfit and a serious title contender, the Elks led 29 to 11 before Manager Jerry King inserted the second string.

At this point, the Electrics, led by Smith, who paced the club with nine points, began to hit and marked up eight points in quick order. With two minutes to go, King rushed the regulars back into the melee to stem the uprising.

The Pure Oil-Canzol battle was a nip-and-tuck affair until the latter outfit began to click midway in the second half. Mack's club failed to connect with any regularity in the opening half and at the intermission were trailing by a 10 to 6 count.

Tied Five Times.

Opening the second period, the Pure Oils rallied to knot the score five times before Johnny Shuster put the Canzols in front with a charity toss and goal. At this point, the two combines were deadlocked at 18-all. But after Schuster tallied, the team continued to hit to enable it to emerge with the decision.

Schuster topped the winners with eight points, while Hazlett paced the Pure Oils with eight.

Urschel Sets Scoring Pace

Rolls 611 Total to Lead Commercial League.

Urschel of the Jackson Potato Chips banged out a 611 to lead the scoring in the Commercial C league at the Meder alleys last night. He started with a 212 and finished with a 206. The Walters Barbers paced the teams with a 2537.

WEST FIFTH WINS AGAIN

Keeps Record Unmarred By Turning Back Prospect In Grade League.

Play was resumed in the Grade school basketball league at Mansfield high school yesterday after the holiday season, and the undefeated West Fifth club continued its winning ways by thumping Prospect, 9 to 6.

Hedges dropped its second game of the season by losing to Newman, 14 to 2. In the other games, Woodland whipped Bushnell, 12 to 4; Brinkerhoff defeated Western, 22 to 3, and Bowman whipped Carpenter, 20 to 9, with Baker scoring 14 points.

RULES CHANGES ORDERED TO AID GRID OFFENSIVES

Provide for More Leeway In Passing at Goal, Moving of Ball 15 Yards From Sidelines.

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss.—(AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association's rules committee has answered the howls of many football fans and some coaches that the defense was getting all the break with two changes in the rules, both designed to aid the offense.

Neither alteration was considered radical. One provided for moving the ball in 15 yards from the side line instead of 10 yards when it goes out of bounds or becomes dead within 15 yards of the sideline.

Aids Goal Passing.

The other provided more leeway for a passing attack near the goal line by treating any forward pass, except on fourth down, that falls incomplete behind the goal line as though it had struck the ground on the field of play.

The new rule permits the tossing of three incomplete forwards across the goal line without penalty, whereas, under the old rule, the second incompleted pass over the goal line was treated as a touchback and the ball went to the opposing team on its 20 yard line.

Secretary W. S. Langford, New York City, who announced the changes after a two-day committee session, said the alterations were approved unanimously. He added that a number of other proposals were discussed and either rejected or referred to the standing committee on rules changes.

The American Football Coaches association had recommended the change applying to a ball going out of bounds together with a proposal reducing the penalty for a ball inadvertently striking an ineligible offensive player on a forward pass play before crossing the line of scrimmage, to the loss of a down instead of loss of the ball.

The latter proposal was referred to the standing rules changes committee after, Langford said, "it had been debated at great length."

No Sentiment Found.

The secretary said a proposal to permit forward passing anywhere behind the line of scrimmage as professional teams do, instead of five yards back was "discussed briefly but no marked sentiment was found."

ENCOUNTER MAJOR TEST

Front-Running Methodists Meet Temple in Top Game Wednesday.

The outcome of a certain game on this week's Class A Church league schedule will have a very important bearing on the championship race.

It will not only determine the championship hopes of the Temple Emanuel quintet, but will decide to some extent the chances of the pace-setting First M. E. cagers to go through their schedule undefeated.

The Methodists will be seeking their sixth straight victory Wednesday when they meet Temple in the first game at 7 p. m. Temple, which is in second place, lost its only game of the campaign last week.

In the other games Wednesday, Park Avenue Baptist meets Episcopal at 7:45, Central M. E. tackles St. Paul at 8:30, First Lutheran faces St. John's at 9:15, and Mayflower engages United Presbyterian at 10.

* * *

Tonight's games in the Class B Church league pit Central M. E. against Mayflower, Park Avenue Baptist against St. John's, First Lutheran against B'Nai Jacob, First Presbyterian against South Main, and First M. E. against First Christian. The Lutheran club is the present league leader.

BUCKS DROP SECOND

Ohio State's cage machine dropped the second of five contests of the current last night when George Washington University's sharpshooters scored a 46 to 35 victory at Washington.

POPEYE—Not a "Bunny" Laddie. By Segar

THE GOONS ARE WAITIN' TO HANG WIMPY AN' KING BLOZO DOES NOT DO NOTHINK ABOUT IT
OH! OH!
THAT WAS WIMPY'S VOICE
YOU SHOULD NOT DO THIS TO ME
WELL, BLOW ME DOWN
YOU TORTURE ME! FOR MY LAST MEAL YOU OFFER ME A CARROT!

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—It Can't Last. By Harold Gray

BUT, CHILD, YOU MUST EAT- YOU'RE GROWING- WHAT'S THE MATTER? DON'T YOU LIKE IT?
IT'S SWELL- BUT I HAD A WHOPPIN' BIG FIRST HELPIN'- I NEVER TAKE SECONDS-
GEE- I COULD HAVE CLEANED UP TH WHOLE DISH- BUT I HAD ENOUGH- I'M NO HOG- AND SHE DIDN'T EAT ANY- SAYS SHE HAS A VERY LIGHT APPETITE- ONLY EATS ONE REAL MEAL A DAY- YEAH? SHE'S STARVIN' SO WE CAN EAT-
BUT FIGGER A SECOND- BY GOIN EASY SHE HAS JUST ENOUGH TO KEEP HER GOIN', ALONE- WITH THREE EXTRA FOLKS, THAT'S FOUR TO FEED, 'STEAD O' ONE- OR WE ALL CAN EAT JUST ONE FOURTH AS LONG--- HM-M--
THAT MEANS, ON HER PENSION, WE CAN ALL EAT ONE WEEK EACH MONTH- BUT WHAT 'BOUT TH' OTHER THREE WEEKS? WE CAN'T STAY ONE WEEK AND LEAVE- WHAT'D SHE DO? STARVE? NOPE- THERE MUST BE SOME OTHER ANSWER-
HAROLD GRAY

TAILSPIN TOMMY—Trouble Brewing! By Hal Forrest

YOU SAY, I WON'T HAVE TO FINANCE THAT SHIP? LET'S HAVE A LOOK AT THOSE PLANS AGAIN!
SURE, CHIEF!
SAY! I THINK YOU'VE GOT SOME-THING HERE, BOYS!
WE KNOW IT!
I'LL WIRE THE WAR DEPART-MENT TODAY! MEANWHILE, YOU BOYS KEEP TIGHT-LIPPED.. ABOUT THIS
DON'T WORRY, CHIEF! NOBODY KNOWS ABOUT IT.. EXCEPT US THREE AND NOBODY ELSE, WELL!
THAT'S WHAT YOU THINK, TAILSPIN!

BRINGING UP FATHER— By George McManus

WELL- I'M GONNA CALL IT A DAY- IT'S FIVE O'CLOCK. MY GREAT SECRETARY, SIR VON PLATTER, DIDN'T SHOW UP TODAY- HE IS EITHER LOST OR UNDER THE CARE OF A DOCTOR, THINKING ABOUT WORK-
WELL- THERE HE IS- IN THE OFFICE NEXT TO MINE-
WHAT ARE YOU DOING IN HERE?
VERY BUSY, INDEED-- MR JIGGS- YOUR BOOKS ARE QUITE MUDDLED UP--! I JUST CAN'T BALANCE A THING-
WHY- YOU FAT-HEAD- YOU DON'T WORK HERE- THIS FIRM IS IN THE HANDS OF THE RECEIVERS-
OH- IS THAT WHY THEY ONLY HAVE RED INK IN ALL OF THE BOTTLES?

THE GUMPS—Bim Puts His Foot Into It. By Gus Edson

YOU'RE RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS! BEHIND MY BACK, YOU HAD THE GALL TO SEND MY BELOVED CHILD TO THE FOUNDLING HOME!
ME? HOW DARE YOU!!!
YOU'VE ALWAYS BLAMED ME FOR EVERYTHING THAT WENT WRONG AROUND THIS HOUSE! IT'S A WONDER YOU DON'T SAY I'M RESPONSIBLE FOR THE WORLD WAR! LET ME TELL YOU SOMETHING—!
NOW-NOW, MAMA- DON'T GET EXCITED--
I APOLOGIZE, MAMA— I'M HONESTLY SORRY— BUT IT WAS A NATURAL MISTAKE - YOU'RE THE ONLY ONE AROUND HERE CAPABLE OF SUCH A TRICK- ER- I MEAN--
WHY, YOU- YOU--

PAM—Worried! By A. W. Brewerton

PAM! WHAT'S WORRYING YOU? GOT SOMETHING ON YOUR MIND — I CAN TELL! — IS IT TRYING TO DECIDE ABOUT GOING WITH THE F.B.I.? —
OH, NO, CLARE — NOT THINKING OF THAT AT ALL--
--IN FACT, THE WAY I FEEL RIGHT NOW I—I— —DON'T THINK I'LL CONSIDER IT!
YOU'RE A NUT, IF YOU DO! — COURSE IT'S A GREAT HONOR —GETTING THAT OFFER— BUT ITS JUST TOO DANGEROUS! — WISH BROTHER'D GIVE IT UP!
AND PERHAPS PAM WAS THINKING THAT, TOO! -NO WORD HAS YET COME FROM DAVID!
NOT STEPPING OUT TONIGHT, KIDDO?
NO — THINK I'LL JUST STAY HOME — AND RELAX!
BUT AFTER CLARE HAD DEPARTED WITH HER DATE, PAM (HANDY TO THE TELEPHONE) TRIED IN VAIN TO GET HER MIND ON A BOOK!
ONE OF THE LAST THINGS DAVID SAID TO ME WAS "BE A BRAVE GIRL" - I'M TRYING TO BE — BUT — I DO WISH — I'D HEAR FROM HIM!
BUT THE TELEPHONE CONTINUED SILENT!

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—It Can't Last. By Harold Gray

BUT, CHILD, YOU MUST EAT— YOU'RE GROWING— WHAT'S THE MATTER? DON'T YOU LIKE IT?
IT'S SWELL— BUT I HAD A WHOPPIN' BIG FIRST HELPIN'— I NEVER TAKE SECONDS—
GEE— I COULD HAVE CLEANED UP TH' WHOLE DISH— BUT I HAD ENOUGH— I'M NO HOG— AND SHE DIDN'T EAT ANY— SAYS SHE HAS A VERY LIGHT APPETITE— ONLY EATS ONE REAL MEAL A DAY— YEAH? SHE'S STARVIN' SO WE CAN EAT—
BUT FIGGER A SECOND— BY GOIN EASY SHE HAS JUST ENOUGH TO KEEP HER GOIN', ALONE— WITH THREE EXTRA FOLKS, THAT'S FOUR TO FEED 'STEAD O' ONE— OR WE ALL CAN EAT JUST ONE FOURTH AS LONG— HM-M—
THAT MEANS, ON HER PENSION, WE CAN ALL EAT ONE WEEK EACH MONTH— BUT WHAT 'BOUT TH' OTHER THREE WEEKS? WE CAN'T STAY ONE WEEK AND LEAVE— WHAT'D SHE DO? STARVE? NOPE— THERE MUST BE SOME OTHER ANSWER—
HAROLD GRAY

WELL— THERE HE IS— IN THE OFFICE NEXT TO MINE—
WHAT ARE YOU DOING IN HERE?
VERY BUSY, INDEED— MR JIGGS— YOUR BOOKS ARE QUITE MUDDLED UP— I JUST CAN'T BALANCE A THING—
WHY— YOU FAT-HEAD— YOU DON'T WORK HERE— THIS FIRM IS IN THE HANDS OF THE RECEIVERS—
OH— IS THAT WHY THEY ONLY HAVE RED INK IN ALL OF THE BOTTLES?

THE GUMPS—Bim Puts His Foot Into It. By Gus Edson

YOU'RE RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS! BEHIND MY BACK, YOU HAD THE GALL TO SEND MY BELOVED CHILD TO THE FOUNDLING HOME!
ME? HOW DARE YOU!!!
YOU'VE ALWAYS BLAMED ME FOR EVERYTHING THAT WENT WRONG AROUND THIS HOUSE! IT'S A WONDER YOU DON'T SAY I'M RESPONSIBLE FOR THE WORLD WAR! LET ME TELL YOU SOMETHING—!
NOW-NOW, MAMA— DON'T GET EXCITED—
I APOLOGIZE, MAMA— I'M HONESTLY SORRY— BUT IT WAS A NATURAL MISTAKE— YOU'RE THE ONLY ONE AROUND HERE CAPABLE OF SUCH A TRICK— ER— I MEAN—
WHY, YOU— YOU—

PAM—Worried! By A. W. Brewerton

PAM! WHAT'S WORRYING YOU? GOT SOMETHING ON YOUR MIND — I CAN TELL! — IS IT TRYING TO DECIDE ABOUT GOING WITH THE F. B. I.? —
OH, NO, CLARE — NOT THINKING OF THAT AT ALL —
—IN FACT, THE WAY I FEEL RIGHT NOW I — I — DON'T THINK I'LL CONSIDER IT!
YOU'RE A NUT, IF YOU DO! — COURSE IT'S A GREAT HONOR — GETTING THAT OFFER — BUT IT'S JUST TOO DANGEROUS! — WISH BROTHER'D GIVE IT UP!
AND PERHAPS PAM WAS THINKING THAT, TOO! — NO WORD HAS YET COME FROM DAVID!
NOT STEPPING OUT TONIGHT, KIDDO?
NO — THINK I'LL JUST STAY HOME — AND RELAX!
BUT AFTER CLARE HAD DEPARTED WITH HER DATE, PAM (HANDY TO THE TELEPHONE) TRIED IN VAIN TO GET HER MIND ON A BOOK!
ONE OF THE LAST THINGS DAVID SAID TO ME WAS "BE A BRAVE GIRL" — I'M TRYING TO BE — BUT — I DO WISH — I'D HEAR FROM HIM!
BUT THE TELEPHONE CONTINUED SILENT!

PRICE UPSWING ATTRIBUTED TO 'BIG NAVY' MOVE

Steels, Aircrafts and Motors Set Pace for Advance Near Second Hour.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Steels, aircrafts and motors led an upswing in today's stock market.

While dealings were comparatively slow from the start, gains of fractions to 3 points were widely distributed near the second hour.

Buying in the steel and aviation departments was attributed to expectations congress would quickly enact a "big navy" program in line with the president's defense recommendations.

Erie stock and bonds rallied following weakness yesterday when the road defaulted interest payments on 5 of its loans. Commodities developed rising tendencies with wheat strong.

Market analysts found little comfort in the condition statement of weekly reporting Federal Reserve member banks which disclosed, for the seven days ended Dec. 29, a drop of $16,000,000 in commercial, industrial and agricultural loans. Holdings of U. S. Government direct obligations also decreased $49,000,000.

Followers of Rubber Company shares noted announcements of the two largest mail order concerns of a cut in tire prices ranging from 3 to 12 per cent. The reduction was said to reflect the cloudy outlook for consumption during the early part of the new year.

FUGITIVES BACK

4 Who Escaped From Honor Camp Returned to O. S. R.

Four Mansfield reformatory inmates who escaped from the Grafton honor camp Sunday had been returned to the institution today from Newark by reformatory guards. Three of them would have been paroled in a few months.

Supt. Arthur L. Glattke said the quartet had been taken into custody by Newark authorities shortly after they had abandoned an automobile stolen in Elyria which they used in their escape.

The fugitives, all sentenced from Franklin county, are John Dennison, 21, Kenneth Davis, 26, Ralph Rush, 20, and Raymond Corbin, 18.

Dennison and Davis, serving 1 to 15 years for burglary and larceny, were to have been paroled May 1. Bush, who was serving one to five years for possession of burglary tools, was to have been paroled April 1. Corbin is under sentence from 10 to 25 years for robbery.

Glattke said that paroles of the three would be revoked and additional time would be assessed Corbin as penalty for their escape.

his campaign fund, and from whom he may accept employment contrary to the public interest."

Hurls Lobby Charge.

Before one of the largest throngs ever to fill the house chamber, Davey charged that a majority of senators were controlled by lobbyists.

"I think that in fairness to the state of Ohio, you should make a thorough investigation of the lobbyists who infest the capital city," he told the house members.

"Let us find out whom they represent how much money they spend, on whom they spend it, and why they have a stranglehold on certain members of the legislature

"I give you this whole conspiracy gang to investigate with thoroughness and impartiality. Will the conspirators welcome it? Watch them run into their dark hide-outs."

Senators named by the governor were Fred L. Adams of Bowling Green, H. D. Byrne of Kent, John F. Connolly of Toledo, Tom L. Gallagher of Cleveland, William F. Hurley of Lorain, Maurice P. Lipscher of Youngstown, George M. Morris of Columbus, J Ralph Seidner of Youngstown, William M. Boyd of Cleveland, Emerson Campbell of St. Clairsville and Verner E. Metcalf of Marietta. Adams and Metcalf are Republicans, the other Democrats.

Senator's Wife Protests Charges.

Senator William F. Hurley, one of the 11 who were attacked last night by Governor Martin L. Davey in his radio address, represents the 27th-29th Ohio district, which includes Richland county He is a Democrat.

Hurley's home is in Lorain, and he was elected in 1936, defeating Philip Wolfe, incumbent, of Mansfield

Governor Davey charged that Hurley had sought to obtain a club liquor license for a man who had no club, and that when it was refused, he joined the senate "hatchet gang" which has opposed Davey.

Senator Hurley was not available for comment today, the Associated Press reported, nor did he accept Gov. Davey's invitation to be present at the broadcast of his address. However, Mrs Hurley was present, and attempted to protest from the floor of the assembly chambers as Davey loosed his attack on her husband.

"That isn't true! Governor, that isn't so," she shouted.

SEE ROOSEVELT LIST DEFICIT AT 1 BILLION

Observers Believe Figure For Current Year Will Be Set At $1,250,000,000.

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Usually well-informed officials predicted today that President Roosevelt's budget for the next fiscal year would carry a $1,000,000,000 deficit, and that he would revise his estimated deficit on this year's budget to $1,250,000,000.

They made these forecasts after Mr. Rosevelt told congress yesterday that the budget for the 1939 fiscal year, beginning July 1, would be unbalanced but the deficit would be smaller than this year's.

Secretary Morgenthau, commenting on the president's announcement, said that business conditions had changed the situation completely since he and Mr. Roosevelt had expressed hope in the fall of achieving a balance.

"If business should pick up, we could still balance the budget," he said.

Relief Needs Uncertain.

The president expects to send his 1938-39 budget to congress tomorrow, but probably will tell the lawmakers that next year's relief needs cannot be estimated for a few more months The budget figures on naval construction also will be tentative.

The continuance of an unbalanced budget, laid chiefly to relief needs arising from the business recession, pointed up the current congressional issue of whether to trim expenses or to spend heavily to create work for the unemployed.

President Roosevelt has proposed curtailing federal aid for highways, reducing the enrollment of the Civilian Conservation Corps, and generally tightening departmental expenses.

The new session of congress was certain to hear strenuous objections to the highway and CCC reductions, together with new demands for expansion of the WPA.

Official figures showing the unemployed between 7,822,912 and 10,870,000 were relied on by proponents of government spending as giving support to their contention that government still must "take up the slack" in providing work.

Economy Of Words Anyhow!

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The annual report of Public Printer A E Giegengack indicated today that members of congress are talking less.

There was an average of 75 25 pages in each issue of the Congressional Record during the regular 1937 session, the report said, compared with an average of 88.3 pages in the 1936 session.

CALL MESSAGE 'CONCILIATORY'

Roosevelt's Friends Join Foes In View on Special Message To Congress.

Woodruf (R-Mich), on the other hand, called the Roosevelt message "more suave and polished, but just as unbending and vicious" as the speeches by the other two men

Observers were quick to note that a Pittsburgh address last night by Secretary Wallace was along the same theme as the president's.

Hits 'Few' Capitalists.

"Workers and government are often critical of a few capitalists for very good reasons." Wallace said, adding "it is important to remember that capital itself is different from a few short-sighted capitalists

"It doesn't do either labor or agriculture any good to scare capital; instead they must all find ways to work together."

Colby M Chester, chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers and head of the General Foods corporation said he was favorably impressed by the president's statements on improved business-government relations, and expressed hope a "real basis for understanding has been created"

On the other hand, Senator Copeland (D-NY) expressed disappointment in the message, asserting that "to restore business prosperity there must be the assurance—real assurance—that in government is the intention to cooperate and assist the efforts of business"

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), took a similar view, saying that national income would recede, instead of increase "until we proceed by consistent pattern to give honest, productive American business a fair chance to prosper and provide jobs under the competitive capitalistic system"

Before getting down to work on the entire administration program, legislators were awaiting the annual budget message tomorrow Mr. Roosevelt disclosed he had abandoned hope for balancing income and outgo in 1938-39.

As soon as the message is received the house will begin debating appropriations Meanwhile it had no special business

District Heads to Discuss 1938 Events at Elks Home Thursday.

Plans for coming scout events and approval of the annual scout program will be made at a meeting of scoutmasters and the commissioners' staff of the Mansfield district Thursday evening at Boy Scout headquarters in the Elks building

The meeting is being called to make plans for future scouting activities and to set dates for these activities, and to go over the annual scout program as set up by Floyd Dent, area executive.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 30 p. m. and will be in charge of Phil Smith, district commissioner.

TELLS CLUB CHARTER FORM OF GOVERNMENT REDUCES POLITICS

Ashtabula, northeastern Ohio city with a population above 27,000, is well pleased with its city manager form of government under a charter adopted in 1914, according to Tom R. Bailey, city solicitor of Ashtabula, speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Rotary club, held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel

Aroused by the inefficiency and corruption that existed under the political system previously in vogue, Ashtabula citizens moved toward adoption of a charter in 1914, shortly after passage of the home rule amendment in 1912, which made this possible.

"I would not tell you," said Bailey, "that politics has been entirely eliminated from Ashtabula municipal government, but I will say that its influence has been reduced to a minimum and that under economical management and efficient handling of the city's business Ashtabula now has the lowest tax rate of any Ohio city comparable in size."

It was explained that, following initial steps by a group of representative citizens, two years were required for preparation of the charter and submission to the voters—it having been in 1916 that the charter became effective.

Under the Ashtabula charter seven councilmen at large are elected for two-year terms at $100 a year One of these is selected to serve as council president and also carries the title of mayor but has no executive duties other than to preside over council, extend welcome to the city and serve in other honorary capacities

The executive head of the city government is the manager, chosen by council and retained as long as his services are satisfactory Council also appoints solicitor, auditor, treasurer and chief health officer

The city manager appoints heads of other departments, who are responsible to him for efficiency of service, under civil service rules which insure tenure as long as work is being properly done.

Oliver C. Henkel was chairman of the meeting, at which R D. Iden, member of the board of directors presided.

BOTH IN RED

Democrat and G.O.P. Committees Spend Beyond Incomes.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Both Republican and Democratic national committees lived beyond their incomes last year, reports to the clerk of the house disclosed today

The Democrats said they received $1,294,748.47 during the year—the largest single source being the annual "victory dinners" — and spent $1,461,272.75.

The Republican committee reported receipts of $628,046 and disbursements of $632,185

Deducting $8,495 59 cash on hand from their unpaid debts, the Democrats figured their red ink balance at $211,295.93 The Republicans did not disclose similar computation.

City Gets 6 New Snow Scrapers to Clear Ice Rink

The city of Mansfield today had become the owner of six new steel snow scrapers that are to be used to keep the ice clean for skaters at North lake, Mayor Claude M Hunter announced today.

The scrapers were presented to the new administration by Norman L. Kellog, 62 Wolfe avenue, an employe at Westinghouse, through H W. Arlin, supervisor of public relations of the firm.

Hunter in turning the scrapers over to the care of Jacob Rahm, new superintendent of parks, explained that they were accepted on the condition that they were to be used exclusively at North Lake park

"We are very grateful for the gift" Hunter said, "and the administration will be glad to show co-operation that will add to the convenience of the public."

ABANDONS LINER

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The Dollar Line announced today it had turned over to underwriters the $8,000,000 luxury liner President Hoover, which ran aground off Formosa Dec. 10

The announcement explained continued monsoons made salvage operations virtually impossible. The Dollar Line will collect insurance and abandon salvage rights.

Papers Comment on Roosevelt Speech At Congress Opening

(By United Press)

New York News: On March 4, 1933, the people listened to Roosevelt as a messiah. Now, we believe, most of them listen to him as to a man of vast experience and much common sense. The rest hate his guts.

New York Herald-Tribune: The president is hardly at his best in discussing basic economic problems. In this field the superficiality of his knowledge is matched by the evasiveness of his thinking. It is difficult to say which is the more conspicuous in the present effort.

New York Times: By and large, the message is reasonable in its objectives, praiseworthy in its tone and fair in its treatment of those who disagree with specific points in the administration's program.

Washington Post: Yesterday he (Mr. Roosevelt) sought to muffle the reverberations of the onslaughts against 'big business' indulged in last week by Secretary Ickes and Assistant Attorney General Jackson. The change from the very aggressive technique of January, 1937, is significant.

Baltimore Sun: Whether the president is able to adjust himself to a definitely formulated program in support of the system of competitive capitalism (with eradication of the evils of monopolism to which he and his Republican predecessors alike contributed heavily) is a question that remains to be answered.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Apparently, it is the considered policy of the administration to leave the flinging of hard words to such franc tireurs as Secretary Ickes and Assistant Attorney General Jackson ..This may be sound political strategy, or it may not. Its value will best be determined at the end of the session when a comparison is made of what the president now asks and what congress gives him.

Cincinnati Enquirer: The president's message to congress, apart from an admirable survey of foreign affairs quite unrelated to its main content, was essentially a clarification of the viewpoint he has maintained for five years. . . . The sober listener could not fail to realize that the administration still is pointed towards a repetition of the disastrous experiments of 1933 and 1934.

Ohio State Journal, Columbus, O.: In essence, it was just another political speech.

POST REWARD IN HUNT FOR OHIOAN

Harvard Students Raise $5,000 In Search for Cincy Youth.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — (U.P.) — Harvard law school faculty members have contributed a $5,000 reward for information tending to solve the disappearance of Frederick William Burgess, 22, of Cincinnati, O., a first-year student.

Federal agents have joined police and school authorities in investigating the case, William J. West, New England chief of the federal department of justice disclosed.

Don't take needless risks with CHEST COLDS

Relieve their misery this Proved way

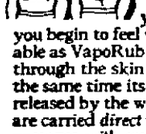
WHEN there's a cold to treat—especially if it's a chest cold—that's no time to experiment. Relieve the misery with the treatment that has been doubly proved for you.

Here's What To Do: It's best to stay in bed and get lots of rest. Eat lightly, drink plenty of water, and keep elimination regular. And use your dependable Vicks VapoRub without delay.

VapoRub has been proved by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind—further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (Full details in every VapoRub package.) Only Vicks give you proof like this.

No Long Waiting for Relief to Begin... Vicks VapoRub is direct external treatment. No "dosing"—no risk of stomach upsets. You simply massage it on throat, chest, and back (as illustrated). Then—to make its long-continued double action last even longer—spread a thick layer on the chest and cover with a warmed cloth.



Almost before you finish rubbing, you begin to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub goes to work direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break up local congestion. And long after you relax into restful sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working—hour after hour.

42,800 IN AREA ON U. S. SOCIAL SECURITY ROLLS

Claims for Lump Sum Payments Increase as Program Enters Second Year.

More than 42,800 persons in the six-county Mansfield district of the social security board have filed applications for participation in the old age insurance program that has just entered its second year tomorrow, R. G. Mish, district manager, said today.

"As the program passes its first anniversary, the initial work of assigning account numbers has given way to other activities," Mish said. For the past few months there has been a marked increase in the number of claims received for lump sum payments under the act."

He explained however, that these payments are not to be confused with the major program of monthly retirement benefits, which goes into effect in 1942 and under which eligible retired workers will receive lifetime monthly payments.

The lump sum payments are to workers who have reached the age of 65, since the security act went into operation and to the estates or relatives of workers who die before that age. They are made on the basis of 3½ per cent of the wages the worker received from Jan 1, 1937 until the time he reached 65 or until his death.

During the past year 137 claims for lump sum payments were submitted to the social security board from this area, Mish said.

Says Many Not Filed.

There are, however, many eligible claims for lump sum payments which have not yet been filed," Mish said in urging that such claims be submitted at once. Claims forms and assistance in filling them out properly may be obtained at the board office in the Richland Trust building

"Although claims activities are rapidly developing in this area, our work of assigning account numbers still goes on, for this is a continuing phase of the old-age insurance program," the district manager added.

He said that most of the applicants for account numbers now are from young people entering their first jobs and workers who are changing from employment which is not covered by provisions of the act to one which is covered.

An important contribution to progress in administration of the program as it enters its second year is the growth in understanding of the plan by those who are participating in it, Mish believes.

"They appreciate that the social security account is an individually numbered account, maintained for them by the social security board for the purpose of keeping record of the wages they receive while employed under the provisions of the act," he said.

The Mansfield district of the social security board includes Richland, Ashland, Wyandot, Morrow, Marion and Crawford counties.

GIVEN WARNING

Dog Owners Told They Have 2 Weeks Yet to Get '38 Tags.

With less than one-tenth of the county's dog population licensed for 1938 and the deadline for purchasing tags only two weeks away, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe warned dog owners today that they must obtain tags by Jan. 20 to avoid a penalty.

Less than 60 tags had been sold today at the auditor's office in the courthouse, and there was every indication, Wolfe said, of a last-minute rush to buy tags. More than 6,000 dogs were licensed in the county last year.

The tags, which cost $1 for male and spayed female dogs and $3 for females, may be ordered by mail if the correct fee accompanies the order, Wolfe said. Tags are distributed in Shelby by G. W. Armstrong.

A $1 penalty will be imposed on dog owners who purchase tags after Jan. 20.

PLAYERS READY FOR NEW SHOW

Year's Second Presentation, 'Kind Lady' to Be Given At Senior High Feb. 1.

A cast of almost all new players will be seen when the Mansfield Community Players present their second play, "Kind Lady" Tuesday, Feb. 1 at Senior high school auditorium.

The cast was announced by Helen Bacon, director of the Players Rehearsals will get under way immediately.

The cast includes Betty Osbun, John McCann, Mrs. Joseph Montgomery, Miss Norma Johnston, Mrs Thornton Moore, Perry Cook, A. D Robb, Mrs. Sylvia Henderson, Joan Balliett, William Frosz, and Paul Bell. Only Miss Osbun and Bell have appeared with the Players before.

The play, written by Edward Chodorov from a story of the same name by Hugh Walpole, is a dramatic one, involving a note of mystery and suspense It concerns a gentle old Englishwoman who invites a man off the street to have a cup of tea with her in her London home How he repays her kindness makes an unusual and dramatic play, which holds the reader in suspense until the final curtain. Grace George played the title role in the New York production.

"Kind Lady" is the second of three plays to be presented this season by the Players. The final production will be "First Lady," the smart dialogue play on Washington, D. C.

Considering the President's Message.

ACTION by Congress, rather than what President Roosevelt said in his message yesterday, will quite likely become the determining factor in either moving from the present recession into an actual depression, or regaining lost momentum and again advancing to the brighter outlook which marked the early months of 1937.

The address which President Roosevelt delivered to Congress yesterday was one of the longest and most comprehensive of his administration.

In it he dealt with a wide variety of subjects of national and world interest, his handling of the international situation having been such as to gain attention in many foreign nations.

Especially significant are these sentences:

"I am thankful that I can tell you that our nation is at peace. It has been kept at peace despite provocations which in other days, because of their seriousness, could well have engendered war . . . Resolute in our determination to respect the rights of others, and to command respect for the rights of ourselves, we must keep ourselves adequately strong in self-defense."

An all-weather farm program and further insistence on a wage-hour bill occupied places of considerable prominence in the message—these being subjects to which it is believed Congress will give early consideration.

It was to the relationship of business and government, however, that the President devoted greatest attention, evidencing realization that there must be a change in the present feeling of public uncertainty if there is to be any early movement toward restoration of prosperous industrial and business conditions.

Said the President:

"The overwhelming majority of business men and bankers intend to be good citizens. Only a small minority have displayed poor citizenship by engaging in practices which are dishonest or definitely harmful to society. This statement is straight-forward and true. No person in any responsible place in the government of the United States today has ever taken any position contrary to it."

Unfortunately, however, the administration's approach to the task of weeding out the "small minority" has been such as to cast suspicion on the "overwhelming majority" and to make it practically impossible for that "overwhelming majority" to continue operation of their businesses at a fair margin of profit—which is essential to all business.

There will be quite general agreement, also, with the President's mention of "practices which most people believe should be ended:

"They include tax avoidance through corporate and other methods . . . Excessive capitalization; investment write-ups and security manipulations; price rigging and collusive bidding in defiance of the spirit of anti-trust laws . . .; high pressure salesmanship which creates cycles of over-production . . .; unfair competition which drives the smaller producer out of business . . .; shifting of production from one locality to another in pursuit of the cheapest wage scale . . ."

There has been—and there should continue to be—an elimination of bad practices on the part of a "small minority" of persons and organizations engaged in large and small business enterprises.

It is entirely within the province of government to find means of restraining and punishing these crooks so that the "overwhelming majority" of honest and well-intentioned operators of business, industry, finance and transportation will be relieved of the suspicion under which they have been placed.

This can be done through the intelligent co-operation of the legislative and executive branches of federal government.

Safe-Driver's Reward.

RECENT announcement by thirty-eight casualty and surety companies that beginning about Feb. 1 "substantial cash rewards" will be granted to motorists for safe driving has an immediate appeal. According to the plan adopted by the group, they will allow 15 per cent of the annual insurance premium to drivers who, from the insurance viewpoint, go through an accident-free year.

It is called the "Safe Driver Reward Plan" and is welcomed not only by policy-holders, but by motor vehicle commissioners, safety organizations and similar groups. While the amount in most cases will be small, the mere fact of such a reward is expected to have a good psychological effect and to make motorists more careful of their driving. The justice of the arrangement, too, should create good feeling and induce more drivers to carry such insurance. Hitherto the good driver has had to pay for the misdeeds of the bad driver.

Defining a Newspaper.

MAJOR NORMAN IMRIE, of the Columbus Dispatch, who spoke at the Automobile club banquet here a few weeks ago, defines a newspaper as "an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news, foster industry and commerce, express public opinion, and furnish a check on government that no constitution can."

Thus briefly does Major Imrie explain the basic purposes of a newspaper in a way that deserves thought.

Present day newspapers, with their quick access to news from all over the world and with their many features intended to amuse, entertain and instruct, have come into such general acceptance that little thought is given to their value to readers and communities.

"If this country is ever wrecked, it won't be . . . because the liberal spirit demanded too much reform. . . . It will be because the liberal spirit showed a criminal lack of consideration for reason, deliberation and experience."—Dorothy Thompson.

What might be developed into another sports classic would be a couple of congressional teams battling for supremacy in the Gravy Bowl.

It takes a courageous man to keep an honest diary.

WILL WE NEVER LEARN?

Hull Visions World Trade as Recession Cure

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Cordell Hull knows what caused the recession.

He does not tell what caused it. He cannot do so, for his diagnosis differs from his administration's diagnosis. His departmental policy proves that he understands the situation, however. And he has been doing his best, and continues to do his best to give the recession patient what manifestly is the right medicine.

He cannot advertise his medicine as it ought to be advertised, for it is unpopular. The less he talks about it the better. All he can do is to administer smallish doses of it as surreptitiously as possible. Bigger doses would "take" faster, but he cannot give bigger doses without attracting too much attention to them. Then the public would balk at even his little doses. We are lucky in that he is "getting away" with his homeopathic dosage. That, in fact, is somewhat resented. If he attempted alopathic treatment he would start an outright "holler," and his remedy would be banned completely.

* * *

TRADE SHUT OFF.

What caused the recession?

Why, it is as plain as the nose on an elephant's face.

It was caused by saturation of the American demand for American products. Consequently our local production piles up on us.

The remedy? Foreign markets, naturally—a greater demand.

Why is the foreign demand so limited?

Obvious answer:

Our protective tariff policy prohibits (or greatly curtails) foreign countries from shipping their surplusages into the United States, to trade off our surplusages.

* * *

WHY NOT EXCHANGE?

For example:

Our automotive industry is laying off hands wholesale.

Why would it not be doing so? Everyone in this country who wants an auto has one—folk on relief; semi-vagrants. We have more autos than we have bathtubs. And those are official figures.

Now, why should we not trade off our surplus autos with other nations, which cannot turn out autos as cheaply as we can, for their products, where they can be produced more cheaply than we can produce them? Coffee or bananas? — we can't produce either of them. Silk?—which we can't produce at all. Plenty of little gadgets, that central Europe is cleverer at than we are.

I could go on into sugar—but that is a very sensitive subject.

* * *

HULL'S SLOW PROGRESS

Well, we could extend our markets indefinitely into these other countries if we would admit their stuff more freely, to swap with us.

But we have that protective tariff complex, of ours, to reckon with.

Secretary Hull has not got it.

"Reciprocal trade agreements" are his motto.

I know he would like to throw trade barriers down completely, but he cannot do it in the face of our traditional protective "bugs."

He is doing it as fast as he can, anyway.

* * *

HULL "DROWNED OUT"

A country which is economically bottled up is certain to have its economic troubles, of a world character.

Secretary Hull is a world economist.

He is drowned out by chatter as to capital-and-labor disputes and overinventories. Incidentally, it undoubtedly is a complication to have another world war threatening.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Friday, Jan. 4, 1918.

Edward Remy, sr., was chosen president of the Mansfield Clearing House association.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeHart, 60 North Weldon avenue, daughter to Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Frasher, 30 Burnese avenue.

Angeline Dorian, 84 East Third street, was surprised by little friends on her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Frank P. Lahm was here to visit her mother, Mrs. Emily A. Jenner, Marion avenue.

City Chemist R. S. Barr reported Mansfield's water and milk supply met tests for purity.

Mansfield millers were turning out "war flour" in which larger percentage of wheat was utilized.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Wednesday, Jan. 4, 1933.

Mr. and Mrs. William Griffith, 303 Wayne street, celebrated golden wedding anniversary.

Probating of the L. R. Dronberger will revealed a $10,000 bequest to Mansfield General hospital.

Callie Mengert was elected head of the Pocahontas lodge for the new year.

Mrs. Harold Diehl, 16 Tremont street, who had been seriously ill at General hospital, was reported improving.

Mansfield was included in the schedule of the short ship racing meet.

County Engineer Howard C. Sword appointed Clyde Moore as county superintendent of roads.

Here's Chance to "Write a Column."

"If I were a columnist . . . if I controlled that Robinson woman's space for just one day . . . I'D show 'em! I'd pick a topic that would make the world stop, look 'n' listen!"

* * *

HOW often you've said those words, made that wish — and honestly believed that you could shoot the works if you had the chance!

ALL RIGHT, HERE'S YOUR CHANCE!

You want to be a columnist? Then you have your wish! Meaning what? Meaning that you, personally, are being given the chance to "make good your boast and be a COLUMNIST.

For fourteen years I've been filling this space—six days a week—every week, every month, every year. Sometimes you've liked what I've written. Sometimes you haven't. Often you've mentioned—plenty plain—that you could make my stuff look like a last year's bird's nest if you had my breaks. And I've had a mean hunch that you were right! So now's our chance to see.

No, it isn't a contest. There won't be any prizes. But if you make the grade—as many of you will—you'll be handing your idea on to fifty million people. Which ought to make you feel pretty cozy—huh?

Like the idea? Then here's how. Sit down and think of something. Something you've been wanting to broadcast for a long time. Something that's of living importance to every man, woman and child in this country . . . that will hit them where they live and give them new interest, new home, a new wallop.

Politics? Religion? Industry? Love and marriage? Yes, you can choose any of them—provided you keep your notions within decent, friendly bounds. Smut and silliness are OUT. So's racial prejudice and religious intolerance. But otherwise the field is yours . . . and we're mighty eager to see what you do with it.

For, after all, this isn't MY column. Or the editor's. And never has been. It's YOURS. It's the place where YOU should express your need, air YOUR opinions and listen to the other fellow's. America needs a place like that right now—needs it more than a new law or a special tax or another alphabet commission. We're going through a black time, and we're filled with hurt and hate and bitter bewilderment.

SO HERE'S WHERE WE STAGE A GENERAL HOUSE-CLEANING . . . WITH EVERYBODY ROLLING UP THEIR SLEEVES AND JOINING IN.

Ready to start? Then grab that pencil and wade in. Make your letter plain and short—not more than 350 words. Give your correct full name and address. Also your age—which we'll keep confidential if you wish.

How long'll you have? Two weeks from today—to and through January 18. After which, we'll pick the five best letters and release them—with our compliments.

Like a circus? Then here's the makings. And it's your own fault if it isn't a humdinger. You asked for it . . . you boasted you could! So now let's see if you really have the stuff, or were just funnin.'

Address: Elsie Robinson, care King Features Syndicate, 235 East 45th St., New York City.

Keeping Step

—By LESLIE EICHEL—

Getting at the Truth for 1938.

"YOUR COLUMN paints a gloomy picture for 1938," says a reader. Not necessarily. If we get at the truth, we can get at fundamentals in 1938. If, however, we go in for inflation, and the world goes in for more nationalism, 1938 indeed will be a year which future generations may desire to forget.

Business is likely to build up again in 1938. Inflation, of course, would boost it immensely. But, under ordinary conditions, it would build up, for inventories in many instances are low—and there is an immense amount of idle cash seeking investment.

That is the surface of the situation. The beneath-the-surface condition is another matter. Unless there is a wider distribution of buying power, which may require social readjustments, and unless the barriers of nationalism can be broken down internationally, then there is not likely to be any cure of our present illness effected.

Such readjustments take time, people are impatient and suffering, and inflation and hatreds and wars are easy to bring about—thus one can merely pray for clear, calm thinking. And a voice unafraid of the diatribes of the unthinking and exploiters.

* * *

A CHANGED WORLD.

We may cry against change, but the world IS changed.

Men have swung to new banners, and in all parts of the world different thoughts clash.

In Asia, the Japanese empire has swallowed up area as large as the United States—and in the end even may cease to be an empire. Communistic views in China may infect the invaders and spread to the impoverished homeland. So swiftly do the changes of the modern day occur.

We could not revert to where we were, if we would. We must go ahead, in a changed world.

* * *

HOW LONG?

How long will Germany and Italy march on with their Nazism-Fascism? Perhaps a long time. They have not sent a million men into a vast land where they can be "contaminated" with communism, as has Japan.

We read this explanatory note in The Living Age for January:

"Germany and Italy will not go 'bankrupt,' no matter how serious their difficulties may be; the German and Italian workers will not rise in protest against their masters, no matter how low their wages may be or how hard it becomes to get sufficient food. The reason for this is not always realized, according to Douglas Jay, financial expert of the London Daily Herald:

"'Under the Hitler and Mussolini tyrannies there are no trade unions, and all unemployment pay and savings agencies are in the hands of the government. In these conditions no man can strike against the government without facing the certain prospect of starvation within a few days for both himself and his wife and children.

"'That is the fundamental reality of a Fascist regime, standing behind a facade of paper propaganda. Add to it the continual threat of spying and terrorism, and you will understand why workers in Germany and Italy are slow to strike, and why a Fascist state can hardly go bankrupt until its people are literally starving'."

* * *

A VIEW OF U. S.

And here is an interesting review—in London's New Statesman and Nation—on a book called "Dusk of Europe," by Wythe Williams, an American:

'By virtue of his position as foreign correspondent to various American newspapers, Mr. Williams has seen a good deal of the important international crises during the quarter-century, 1910-'35.

"His descriptions, especially those of the war years, are very interesting, though his journalistic-sense of the dramatic and vivid often wrings you unduly. In contrast to the accounts of some statesmen and soldiers, they have a certain comfortable common sense. He concludes that in this period world leadership has definitely passed from Europe to America.

"So it should, according to the rules of the game. Yet there are many signs, which Mr. Williams ignores, that the rules may not stay as they are.

"The U. S. A. is Britain's legitimate successor. It may be claimed for her that she is the most efficient representative now of that system of beliefs, liberal-democracy and the primacy of the trader, which once gave Britain an ascendancy over a world consisting largely of quiescent populations. On that argument it only remains for her right to leadership to be confirmed in the second Armageddon which Mr. Williams foresees.

"But that is to leave a lot out of the picture. The next world conflict (which perhaps has already broken out in Spain and China), may turn out to be an international civil war in which those beliefs which elevated Britain will disappear or be transformed into something beneficial to more peoples than the constitution of one nation can contain.

"Who actually holds world-leadership now? To judge by the newspapers, you would think that the economically second-rate power of Germany and Italy not only lead the world, but lead it by the nose. As a reasonable corrective to that propaganda, Mr. Williams' insistence on the power and importance of America is worth having.

"We should devote a thought now and then to the military potentialities of the United States—especially as nobody shouts about them."

Timely Editorial

Illegal Everywhere.

In view of what the courts everywhere in the nation have ruled in the matter of sit-down strikes since their inauguration in Michigan several months ago, it was surprising that Secretary of Labor Perkins ever permitted herself to say that she did not know whether the strikes were legal or not.

In every instance in which the legality of the sit-down tactics were challenged in the courts the courts have ruled them illegal. The latest instance was the fining of 22 sit-down strikers in Los Angeles. There, if anywhere in the United States, where cults and movements are so common, sympathy for the tactics of sit-downers might have been expected in the courts.

The illegal occupation of property, as sanctioned by Secretary Perkins, as encouraged by Governor Murphy of Michigan when he deliberately ignored a court order clearing one occupied plant in Detroit and the sympathetic attitude toward such procedure by Governor Earle of Pennsylvania, have now been repudiated from coast to coast.—Columbus Dispatch.

Stands firm through every test.

Health Advice

—By DR. ROYAL COPELAND—

Sleep Vital to Health and Life.

NOWADAYS we hear a great deal about the need for sufficient hours of rest and relaxation, proper food and vitamins, exposure to sunshine and the prevention of infections and disabling disease. It has always seemed to me that too little attention is given to one of the chief essentials to good health—sleep.

To be deprived of food and drink is a horrible experience. But a lack of sleep for several days is even a more trying and harrowing experience. There is no dependable record of one living without sleep beyond 10 days. Life has been maintained for a far longer time without food.

Sleep is one of the mysteries of life. While we are asleep certain physical changes take place. The pulse rate and blood pressure are decreased. We breathe slowly and deeply and there appears to be a definite increase in the activity of the internal glands.

Theories Advanced.

Many theories have been advanced to explain the peculiarities of sleep. Some authorities believe it results from a decrease in the amount of blood sent to the brain. Others believe that sleep is produced by an accumulation of certain waste products in the blood. But as yet no explanation has been generally accepted, and many points about it are imperfectly understood.

Taking our lives from infancy to old age, about one-third of our time is spent in sleep. As we mature there is a decrease in the number of hours devoted to sleep. The greatest amount, of course, is demanded in early infancy and in extreme old age.

"Insomnia" is the scientific word for loss of sleep. Those who suffer from it are indeed unfortunate. Such persons are deprived of the necessary rest and relaxation which come with sleep. This condition should never be neglected and if it persists a doctor should be consulted. Above all, avoid the use of so-called "sleeping powders."

While I am on the subject of sleep, let me mention a universal but erroneous belief. It is the popular idea that when two persons sleep together the stronger one will draw certain amounts of energy from the air or body of the weaker one. This is just a silly notion.

McIntyre's New York Day by Day

THE two ex-newspapermen who have had most fun in Hollywood and garnered the most shekels are Gene Fowler and Charles MacArthur. Both were newspaper hellions whose unpredictable capers have grayed many long-suffering city editors.

Especially Fowler, who is by far the most versatile and varied in his antics and talents. He denies it, but more than any other worker has upset the decorum of the studios. There is, for instance, that famous conference gag which is so typically Fowlerish.

While the great thinkers were in Rodin postures around the long table, Fowler dashed in, fully attired save for trousers. He carried them in his hand and flinging them on the table shouted: "Have those cleaned and pressed by tomorrow." And romped out.

Fowler has foresworn Hollywood several times after pilloring it with Rabelaisian sonnets. Then he comes over to his lonely retreat, a seaside cottage on Fire Island, and writes a best-seller or takes a tramp steamer for the Hebrides. But always he goes back to Hollywood. It fascinates him.

* * *

Earl Benham has married friends who on a visit to Japan recently purchased two small birds of extraordinary, brilliant plumage. By time they arrived home the plumage had faded and they found they had purchased two ordinary English sparrows, artistically painted. Clever, the Japanese!

The sprucest clerks in town are those in the tony haberdasheries niched in Radio City — mostly branches of wacky English shops. The "clarks" not only know the latest English styles, but how to wear them. And in true British fashion the shops serve tea around 5 o'clock when a customer for the 15-minutes period is considered something of a bore. Raw-ther!

While Music Hall is about the biggest money maker of its type in town, the Century, its near neighbor, seems jinxed in the manner of the old Century of memory. Opened as the Roxy, a straight movie, it was launched in a legal squabble with the old established Roxy over using the name, and eventually it was forced to change it. Its fare did not attract, so it turned to spectacular productions, the most successful of which was "The Last Waltz," but did not pay out. There were several other costly experiments, including the recent "Virginia," which closed with a $175,000 loss. The structure is still a problem and may be torn down to make way for another office spire. A theater rarely outlives its jinx.

The craze to make restaurant prices more misunderstandable grows. One advertises: Luncheon entrees from 60 cents with minimum cover charge. Another: Dinners prix fixe from $1.50. It has been my conviction a good restaurant should be first honestly one priced and then not print the charges on the menu. The famous Horcher's in Berlin followed that custom. Many dinner guests do not order the dishes they really deserve because the prices are staring at them. Poppa Moneta has menus without price listings for regulars but he has those with prices, too, for strangers who might not like the idea.

Many old-time night clubs—I do not visit them enough to know if there has been change—profited largely through what crooked cashiers called split lead pencil additions. They operated on the theory that customers in the early morning hours were too befuddled to total checks, and rarely did. The fact is waiter captains have concealed contempt for those who do not scan their checks carefully. Men such as Charles M. Schwab, Owen D. Young, Alfred P. Sloane and other whopping successes are careful totalers. The trait indicates an orderly mind.

Some day I suppose I'll meet the fate of the usual innocent bystander. Nothing can keep me from edging the ringside at street brawls. Two husky truck drivers hopped from their seats this afternoon near Brentano's and went at it, hammer and tongs. As suddenly they quit and as one, jutting out a chin, passed me, he growled: "Maybe you want to make something of it." I took on one of Ed Wynn's startled looks, grinned like a sick cat, and walked away stiff legged, dusting imaginary fluff off my coat sleeve and whistling off key.

Honest Small Boy.

EVERY EVENING after dinner, for a few moments, my little boy and I play a game called "Pick Up Sticks." It is a modern variation of the old game of jackstraws; the sticks are six or eight inches long and we use our fingers instead of a hook to lift each stick, one by one, without moving any of the others.

That little boy loves playing the game itself. I play it only because I am playing with him and because of the pleasure that is mine from watching him. . . . He is only four and a half, and I can beat him easily, though I have noticed that he seems to have no "nerves" and his hands are steadier than his father's.

What delights me most, and profoundly, is this: He does not cheat. When he has moved a stick and lost his turn, he never denies that he has done so, never pleads for another turn. . . . Even though I am not looking, he is instantaneous in his admission, "I touched!" and rakes the sticks together for my turn. He knows the rules and follows them, without complaint, without self-pity.

Now that small boy is far from perfect. He has a temper. He dawdles at his meals. He teases. He yells, throws himself on the floor, and is mischievous. When he cannot get what he wants there are times when he makes a terrible fuss. Sometimes he gets on my nerves.

But since I have played this stick game with him, I have no fears for him. . . . I think he will be able to build a good life, a strong character, around this one trait he has shown to me. When he is playing a game—and loses—he admits he has failed. He is square. He is honest with himself. He is a good sport . . . I like him for it. I admire that quality in him. I know it is a precious one . . . I haven't taught him anything about good sportsmanship. He knows the rules and obeys them.

So I know that with this instinct in his heart he can go forth into life and be strong. He may not always be happy. He may never be prosperous. I do not know what the future holds in store for him. But he will have friends. He will be respected. He will have self-respect. He will be a success as a human being. If he keeps that one trait, if life does not spoil him, he will be a man—and I am asking no more of life for this small boy who plays "Pick Up Sticks" with me.

BRIEF SESSION LOOMS FOR NEW CITY COUNCIL

Legislative Hopper Nearly Bare For Organization Meeting Tonight.

Mansfield's new city council—with only two faces appearing for the first time—holds its initial meeting tonight, and if the calendar of legislation and the promise of Karl P. Troll, the new president, are good indications, it will be an extremely brief meeting.

There was only one piece of legislation in the hopper—a claim of $30 from Miss Helen Baughman, police record clerk, for remuneration for part time services rendered before her position was created.

Before that comes up for discussion, council will organize for the coming two years, with President Troll, announcing committee chairmen and personnel.

For Shorter Meetings.

Troll announced some time ago that council's meetings were going to be shorter, and he also said he expects to get the committee appointments over "in about 10 minutes."

Some of the committee appointments were agreed on last Thursday at a Democratic caucus at the home of Councilman Lester D Hunter. Democrats hold a 5-4 majority in the council, as they did last year

Those named at the caucus are Councilman George L Berg, president pro-tem of council, and member of the finance committee; William J. Beer jr., clerk of council; Councilman Fred Miller, chairman and Councilman C. N Shultz, members of the finance committee, the most important of the 11 standing comittees.

Miss Baughman is filling a position created only last month by council However, she worked in the department before the job was formally authorized Her $30 claim is for salary she claims due during that period.

The two new members of council are Harry M. Emmons, Democrat, at large, and Arthur L Croak, Democrat, Sixth ward

Croak takes the place of Berg, who was elected at large, and Emmons and Croak, Berg, at large; Hunter, Fourth ward and Miller, Fifth ward

The four Republicans, all re-elected, are Russell D Porch, First ward, Shultz, Second, and George C. Kyle, Third

Troll, who may vote only in case of a tie, is a Democrat

Pirate of Pacific Mystery and His Slayers

Passengers told a strange story of piracy and mutiny aboard the pleasure yacht Aafje which was towed to San Pedro, Cal., after a wild cruise in the Pacific ocean. Jack Morgan, (center) was the "pirate" who shot and killed Dwight L. Faulding, wealthy California hotel man who had chartered the yacht. When Morgan took command of the craft and began abusing the passengers, Robert Horne (right) is said to have struck him down, after which he and George Spernack (left) threw him overboard.

PLANS ADDITION

Bernstein Says Ritz Theater Will Soon Seat 900

Plans for an extensive addition to the Ritz theater were announced today by Sol Bernstein, manager, following his purchase of a 55-foot lot on North Walnut street yesterday, directly back of the North Main street motion picture house.

Bernstein said that he had purchased the lot at 128 North Walnut street, and adjoining his theater from J F and Sophia Maguire. The lot has a frontage of 55 feet on Walnut and extends back 82 feet

Within the near future work will begin on extending the present building back to Walnut street, increasing the present seating capacity of 450 to 900 seats.

Bernstein said that all new upholstered seats will be installed, a small stage built in, an air conditioning system installed, and the entire building redecorated.

PASSES SCHOOL APPROPRIATION

Board Sets Up $192,448 to Meet Operating Costs in Next Three Months.

duced from $97,855 last year to $52,445.

Figures in the schedule, including $140,003 for general fund expenditures and $52,445 for bond retirement and interest, are based on appropriations and actual expenditures for a similar period last year, Bristor said.

The largest single item in the schedule is $95,235 for salaries for supervisors, principals, teachers and clerks.

Bristor said the schools at present have a bonded indebtedness totaling $609,046, of which $79,073 will be due in 1938

He added that $39,000 in bonds will fall due during the first quarter and $13,445 will be needed for interest payments before April 1.

The board last night approved bills and claims totaling $7,015, leaving $1,103 in the general fund at the beginning of the new year. A balance of $9,123 was shown in the bond retirement fund

Despite the almost depleted general fund, Bristor recommended that the board defer action to borrow pending receipt of approximately $40,000 from the county in a distribution of personal tax funds

HALT THAT COLD!

Put the Brakes on It Fast With This Four-Way Treatment!

No cold can be given an inch! The more rope you give a cold, the more you do to hang yourself!

No cold is a "light" cold. No cold can be ignored or neglected. The cold that is pooh-poohed today is the cold that takes a serious turn tomorrow.

Deal with a cold in a business-like manner. Treat it for what it is—an internal infection! Treat it with a cold medicine not a cure-all.

The Treatment That Answers!

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) are what you want for a cold!

They are expressly a cold treatment, and not a "cure-all."

They are internal medication.

Bromo Quinine tablets do four important things in the treatment of colds.

First, they open the bowels.

Second, they check the infection in the system.

Third, they relieve the headache and fever.

Fourth, they tone the system and help fortify against further attack.

Grove's Bromo Quinine tablets are nothing new or untried. They have been in use over 40 years and are the largest-selling cold tablet in the world.

That, in itself, is enough to assure you of their efficacy and dependability.

Play Safe!

The moment you feel a cold coming on, do the wise thing. Go right to your druggist for a box of Bromo Quinine tablets. Start taking the tablets immediately and you'll usually break up the cold in 24 hours.

Bromo Quinine tablets come in 35c and 60c sizes. The 60c size is the better "buy." It gives you almost 20 per cent more for your money.

Ask your druggist for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) and insist upon getting what you ask for. It's your money you're spending!

Young Producer Gives Rules For Scene Stealing

By ADELAIDE KERR
(AP Feature Service Writer)

NEW YORK—Do you want to know how to steal the show in any drawing room?

Let Vincente Minnelli, young theatrical producer who has coached scores of stage beauties in Hollywood and New York, tell you how

Black, White, and Red.

First, the way to dress.

Red is a good color for scene-stealing, he says But a red hat, bag or handkerchief will do you more good than a whole red outfit. Don't wear a red dress unless you think your rival's charms are greater than yours—and then don't wear it often.

Black or white set a woman off to better advantage. Blue in any shade is sure-fire. Green is a hazard among strangers, for too many men dislike it

If you want to appear fragile and appealing, wear a dress half a size too large

Don t wear shoes too small You can't get them small enough to change the appearance of your foot, they will only make you unhappy and ill at ease

Wear something glittery—a sequins jacket or beaded belt An audience or group is like a baby Whatever flashes catches its eye

Wear a becoming hat, if you want to attract a man

Slowly, Gracefully.

Now, here are the Minnelli rules for that sweeping all before you entrance·

Walk into a room as if you owned it, with your head held proudly and high That means an air of self-possession, but not of snobbishness

Walk slowly and gracefully. If you don't know how, learn by walking around a room and up and down stairs balancing a book on your head. Garbo and Dietrich did it, so you should be willing.

Pause an instant at the door, get your bearings and then go directly to some spot. Never waver

Be sure your hat, hair and make-up are perfect before you enter. Don't touch them afterward.

After you arrive look pleasant and natural and keep your hands as quiet as possible Don't pose

If you have a rival in the room, don't go to an opposite corner. Stand near her and steal her thunder It will give you more satisfaction

The Reserves.

If she's as suave and well dressed as you are and you feel the scene slipping from you—here is some extra ammunition

Stand perfectly still. In a moving group of people, nothing is so compelling as one quiet figure.

Lower your voice When the others see your conversation partner bending attentively to catch your words, they will think you must be fascinating—even if you are only talking about the weather.

Hold something attractive in your hands—a flower or a compact that catches the light—and let it flash when your rival moves or speaks.

SCHEDULE MEETINGS

—Advice—

Can Man Love Two? It May Be Possible

By VIRGINIA LEE

Can a man love two women at the same time?

Do I hear a rousing chorus of "YES" from the men; and "NO" from the women?

Plenty of men—and some women—do love two or more people. Men blithely make love to their stenographers, the girls with whom they work, and their wife's friends — some men, I mean—while declaring all the time that wifey is their only true love. And to be perfectly fair, some women are born flirts and have affairs with their doctors, dentists, and hubby's pals.

An interested reader propounds the query. She tells of a boy who is attending college and who has one girl in the old home town and one at college. He tells each about the other and declares that he will make up his mind eventually which he likes better. To date he hasn't done it. Reader thinks the youth is weak-minded, "this shows considerable weakness of character," she states.

Oh, I don't know. Interested Reader. It shows, for one thing, that he has an open mind, and that he hasn't found the right girl, for another. One of the girls you speak of appeals to one side of his nature and the other another. When he meets the one who suits him all around he won't have to make any decision. He'll know she is the one.

This boy is young and probably it is just as well, from his standpoint, that he isn't sure which girl suits him best. It is hard on the girls, of course, if they are strongly attracted to him. However, they are not deceived, as he is perfectly frank with them. Their best scheme is to also date other young men and try not to get their hearts and hopes anchored on him.

* * *

LONESOME AND BLUE: I am afraid you will have to give the boy up to this other girl, or at least share him with her. He may like you, too, of course, and the other girl also. Go with other boys and show him you can get along without him.

LOKEN AHAID: You flatter me by asking me for a late, dear sir. You will have to go with your troop, I am afraid, as I fear my "steady" would object to the ramble with you. Thank you just the same.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

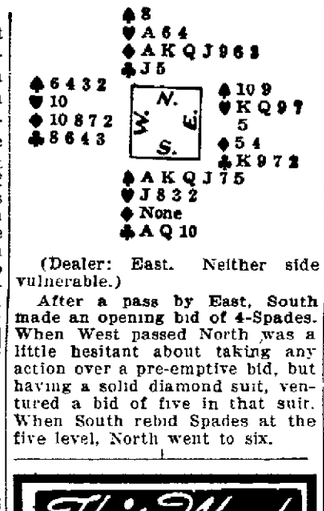
By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

CROWDING YOUR SIDE

High original bids are for just one purpose—to keep strong opponents from getting together in their best contract. They seldom pay except on hands that are extremely weak in defensive strength but possess such great suit length that the sacrifice of points is less than the opponents probably could make in their own best declaration. A pre-emptive bid with a strong hand seldom pays. Its principal effect is to prevent the exchange of information between yourself and partner.



(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

After a pass by East, South made an opening bid of 4-Spades. When West passed North was a little hesitant about taking any action over a pre-emptive bid, but having a solid diamond suit, ventured a bid of five in that suit. When South rebid Spades at the five level, North went to six.

The heart 10 was West's opening lead, which was won in the dummy with the A. Having no entry to dummy, declarer decided to try to get rid of his losing hearts on the diamonds, but East ruffed the third round so that South was left with one loser in that suit and later lost a club.

If the bidding had proceeded differently North and South could have reached a far better contract. It so hapens that North can make 7-Diamonds or 7-No Trumps, but the opening bid of 4-Spades by South so crowded the bidding that it was impossible for North to read anything about his partner's hand except the fact that he held a number of spades.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem.

(Dealer, West. Both sides vulnerable.)

What is the correct defense against South's 3-Club contract, West having bid 1-No Trump, North 2-Hearts East 2-No Trumps and South 3-Clubs?

Cleanse Back As You Do Face, Neck

By GLADY GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty"

THAT FAMOUS beauty of history, Ninon de l'Enclos, it is said, always used thick cream on her lovely skin Not only did Ninon use the cream on her face, but on her back and shoulders as well, and the skin of her back and shoulders was of alabaster smoothness.

The creams that we use today, of course, are scientifically concocted preparations. We use them on our faces with just as much regularity as Ninon used her sweet cream But oddly enough, we seldom think of using them on our shoulders and back.

According to Bette Davis, talented screen star, the back benefits by creaming just as much as does the face. Bette, herself often creams her back. The skin of her back is flawlessly clear and smooth. And it's not at all difficult for me to believe the reason for this loveliness is the cleansing treatment that she habitually gives it.

Cleanliness is really most important for keeping the skin of the back smooth and blemish-free Ordinarily, of course, it's rather difficult to do anything but scrub the back with a long-handled bath brush But there really is a way to cream the back, too, and it's a neat trick.

Use Cotton on Brush.

If you really wish to have a flawless back, give it a good creaming before you take your nightly bath Take some absorbent cotton, put it on the bristles of your long-handled bath brush and then smear a quantity of cold or cleansing cream on the cotton. Then do your cream massaging.

After the creaming, relax in the warmth of your bath. The warm water will open the pores and enhance the cleansing properties of the cream. Then scrub your back with the brush and a pure, bland soap after you have removed the cotton from the bristles.

Cleanliness is not the only thing essential for keeping the back smooth and free from blemishes, however. Improper diet can also cause pimples and eruptions on the back. When large amounts of rich, heavy food, sweets, starches and fried foods are consumed, the blood stream becomes polluted with poisons and blemishes result.

If the back is marked with such blemishes, the diet should be simplified It should consist chiefly of fresh fruits and vegetables. Bran agar, onion, spinach, oranges, figs, dates and like foods should be eaten liberally to sweep the intestines clear of poisonous wastes. And large quantities of water should be consumed each day This procedure, supplemented by proper cleansing treatments, will help to keep the back clear, smooth and flawless.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"Just perfect, Katie." I said with sincerity. "I don't think you've ever made a better-looking cake, and from experience I know it will taste as good as it looks. Miss Mary and Mr. Noel will be delighted."

"Yah," she assented. "Me, I tink, dey like dot pooty goot. Und I got all tings dey like for dinner, so Meester Noel he go back on full stummick, und Mees Mary have sumtings to hold her oop ven she feel bad account her boosband going far away."

"Are you all through with your baking and preparations for dinner?" I asked.

"Yah. Dis last ting. My salad und fruit cup all in ice box, my vegetables all fixed except corn vich I no vant to touch till shoost before dinner, und mine scheeckens all ready for frying Und table, she all set mit pretty dishes Mees Mary likes. Eferything done. Vy? You vant me?"

Wants to Talk.

"Not to do anything, Katie." I returned, relieved to know that dinner was so far advanced. I could take it over myself should any news affect Katie too adversely. I knew the inordinate, ridiculous but very real dread she has of being left alone with my mother-in-law, and feared the worst. "But I do want to talk to you for a few minutes where we won't be disturbed."

I suppose there was unconscious dolor in my voice, for she threw up her head in sudden alarm.

"Nodings happened mit kids?" she demanded, her fears leaping at once to the children she loves almost as if they were the ones denied her.

"No, they are perfectly all right, or Mrs. Bickett would have telephoned us." I returned. "This is something about the house which I must talk over with you."

She gave me a swift, searching look, then turned toward the small screened porch which I long ago had made for Katie and Jim. Katie does most of what she calls her "sit down kitchen work" out there, and both she and her husband sit out there or lounge in their hammocks on pleasant summer evenings.

"Coom out here," she said laconically, and when we had reached it, she slipped the bolts upon both kitchen and outside doors.

"I lock mineself in here ven I vant be by mineself," she explained, and I recalled two or three notable occasions when she had been angry at Jim and kept him away from the comfortable retreat for several days.

She drew a chair for me, and one opposite for herself, and when I was seated, she sat down, watching me warily.

"Now vot oop?" she asked when I hesitated to begin. "For two pins I bet your boots I know. I bet old vomans got sumtings oop her sleeve, to get me in Dootch."

FOR AN instant I wondered if Katie, in Mrs Ticer's parlance, had been "up to something," and had reason to dread my mother-in-law's knowledge of her peccadilloes. But a quarter-second's reflection told me that her anxious comment had its roots in her dread of Dicky's mother.

It did not make my task easier, however, and I would have traded places with almost anybody as I answered her.

"No, it is nothing like that at all, Katie." I said reassuringly "But I want you to listen to me quietly while I tell you what it is. Then we will talk it over But I don't want you to get excited while I tell you about it I warn you beforehand, it is something you won't like to do."

Katie drew her heavy eyebrows into an expressive frown.

Katie Is Rebuked.

"Den it vun of two tings," she said "Dot Ticer vomans she cooming ofter, so I have to vork mit her, or else you vant me to do sometings special for old vomans vere she raise plenty hell "

"Katie, you must not talk that way " I said mechanically as I have done hundreds of times before. Long ago I learned that Katie's irreverence is not based on insolence but on an effervescent tempestuousness, hopeless to correct unless I dismiss her. And as home without Katie's efficient help would be a difficult place for me, I overlook her peccadilloes of speech and action, and utter the mechanical reproofs only as a sop to my lost discipline.

"I know," Katie replied with a contrition equally mechanical "Me, I always forget. 'Scuse, please "

"Here is what I want, Katie," I began, and her eyes widened upon me with anxious intentness "I told you that we are very anxious about Miss Mary and what Mr. Veritzen may be planning against her "

HOROSCOPE

For Wednesday, Jan. 5.

A steadying influence pervades the astral atmosphere on this day There is a prospect of resurrecting old, lagging matters and associations, and putting finances and possessions on a solid basis.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year in which there may be much definite headway in putting the fortunes on a firm foundation. This will come through intervention of friends and the stirring up of stagnant business or the advanced values of old investments, securities or property.

A child born on this day may be deep, studious, serious, trustworthy and ambitious, and should make a definite place for itself in business and in its private life, despite some vicissitudes.

THEATER

VERY few child stars ever are starred in pictures after they grow up, Madge Evans and Mary Koerman to the contrary, so that it is with more than ordinary interest that movie audiences await the first picture of Mitzi Green, current Broadway starlet, who only a few years ago was a child star. Mitzi was the star of R. K. O's "Little Orphan Anne," and a half dozen other big pictures in which she did her famous impersonations of screen luminaries. Now she is back in the film city, bundled in ermine, to play in "Fiddlesticks." Her old studio will make it, and will make amends for the old costumes by giving her a wardrobe that will cost more than $15,000.

"Fight For Your Lady."

John Boles, Jack Oakie, Ida Lupino, Margaret Grahame and Erick Rhodes head the cast in "Fight For Your Lady," opening at the Madison theater Wednesday. The story is laid in Europe, with the action starting in London and progressing rapidly to Budapest. Boles depicts a love-sick wealthy concert singer, Oakie is his wise-cracking pal and physical trainer who undertakes to manage his love affairs as well, and Miss Lupino and Miss Grahame are ladies of the stage—the one in Budapest and the other in London. Boles, discarded by one love, goes to Budapest to attempt to forget the girl and then he meets the other one.

Simone Simon Sings.

Simone Simon, the French "discovery," comes to the front as a singer in the Ben Bernie-Walter Winchell film, "Love and Hisses," at the Ohio theater. The young actress portrays a 'tind' who Bernie attempts to establish in his orchestra as a hit with the aid of Winchell, a newspaper columnist. Winchell starts out by denouncing the girl even before he meets her. Bernie, the girl, and several others frame the newspaperman. They both work together when they find out that the girl can really sing. Others in the cast include Joan Davis and Bert Lahr. The first picture to reach Mansfield of the bombing and sinking of the U. S. S. Panay is an added attraction.

* * *

Clark Gable at Majestic.

Clark Cable and Loretta Young are co-starred in "Call of the Wild," opening at the Majestic theater today. The film follows the adventures of Cable as he battles to win the love of a young girl. The second feature is "Action For Slander," with Clive Brook. Brook is cast as a major, a man weak enough to fall in love with the "other woman" but strong enough to face disgrace and disaster to shield her when he becomes involved in a scandal that reaches clear across London and robs him of his wife, wealth and position.

"Riding On Air."

The operation of a unique radio beam designed to control from the ground a pilotless airplane, forms the basis of the comedy-melodrama, "Riding On Air," starring Joe E. Brown. Portraying the character of Elmer Lane, Brown is seen as the editor of the small-town newspaper as well as the figure-head president of an airplane radio-beam company formed by Guy Kibbee, notorious confidence man. Sylvia Sidney and Henry Fonda head the cast of "You Only Live Once," the second half of the twin bill.

PLUM PUDDING — One pound flour, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda, two tablespoons mace, one pound grated carrots, two teaspoons baking powder, two teaspoons cinnamon, two teaspoons cloves, three-fourths cup molasses, one and one-half pounds currants, one cup melted shortening, one pound raisins, one-half pound pasteurized dates, cut; three-fourths cup dark corn syrup. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add carrots and shortening and mix well. Add remaining ingredients and blend thoroughly. Oil molds and fill two-thirds full of mixture; cover tightly with waxed paper and steam five hours. Bake plum pudding in little crocks, use for gifts.

My Neighbor Says:

Before breaking a cocoanut, heat it in a moderate oven. Crack it and the shell will come off easily.

The best remedy for scratched furniture is a mixture of beeswax and turpentine, the former melted in the turpentine until it is as thick as sirup. Pour a little onto a piece of woolen cloth and rub it well into the scratched part. Then polish quickly with dry flannel and the marks will almost disappear.

How to Make Better Cough Remedy Than You Can Buy

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of sugar syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It is far better than anything you could buy ready-made, and you get four times as much for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.

This is positively the most effective, quick-acting cough remedy that money could buy. Instantly, you feel it penetrating the air passages. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen its equal for prompt and pleasing results.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, the most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

POSTAL FIGURES REACH NEW HIGH

Recession Fails to Cut Into 1937 Receipts, Best in History Here.

The business recession which hit Mansfield the last two months of the year failed to make a dent in postal receipts either for the two months or the entire year, which was the largest in the history of the Mansfield office, Postmaster Herman E. Homberger said today.

Every month of 1937 showed a marked increase over the same month of 1936.

The total receipts of the Mansfield postoffice for 1937 were $321,854, as compared with $286,883 for 1936, an increase of $34,981.

All records for Christmas mail were broken this year, both for incoming and outgoing mail, and $40,459 passed through the windows for postal service on outgoing mail, during December. The total for same month a year ago was $32,689.

PLAN MEETING

Pastors From City, County To Attend Ohio Convention.

A number of Mansfield and Richland county ministers will attend the 19th annual session of the Ohio Pastors convention to be held Jan. 31 to Feb. 3 in Columbus.

Enrollment of ministers from this county is now being made by Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, who is a member of the convention program committee.

This yearly session is sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches and attracts more than 1,000 ministers of all Protestant denominations.

The program and other arrangements for the convention are in charge of a committee made up of representatives of ministerial associations throughout the state. Leading American clergymen of many denominations will speak at the sessions.

Noel Coward Play Cycle Booked In Cleveland Theater

Opportunities have been so rare in modern-day theater to see the one-act play, that the recent exploit of Noel Caward in writing the cycle of nine short plays, to which he has given the blanket title of "Tonight at 8:30," becomes a new and exciting experience in the theater.

Theater goers are to witness the entire series of plays, at the Hanna theater, Cleveland, for six days, beginning Monday evening, Jan. 10 with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, under the direction of Robert Henderson and Estelle Winwood.

The cast which will appear in Cleveland is an able one. Included in the leads are Estelle Winwood, Helen Chandler, Jessie Royce, Landis and Bramwell Fletcher.

The nine plays, three of which are given at each proformance, encompass light farce, serious romance, even tragedy. Four of them are musical comedies with Coward's latest song and dance hits.

Three of the nine plays have been chosen by the New York and London critics as outstanding; they are "Hands Across the Sea," and "Family Album," which will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee.

The plays will be given in a series of three to a performance; Monday and Tuesday nights and Saturday matinee, "Family Album," "Still Life" and "Hands Across The Sea"; Wednesday and Thursday nights and Wednesday matinee, "We Are Dancing," "Fumed Oak" and "Shadow Play"; Friday night, "Ways and Means," "Red Peppers" and "The Astonished Heart" and a special program Saturday night consisting of "Hands Across The Sea," "Fumed Oak" and "Family Album."

NOVELS IRK FALKNER

OXFORD, Miss.—(U.P.)—William Falkner, the novelist, says he has not read "Gone With the Wind" or "Anthony Adverse" because they are "entirely too long for any story. No story takes 1,000 pages to tell," Falkner said.

REMEMBER THAT NIGHT

By MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS
(Copyright 1937)

CHAPTER XXII

Watching the first feeble light of dawn come through the broad window, Karen remembered another night when she had seen the dawn come through the small window in the small room and she had thought, "Some day Philip will find me again."

Was she being ungrateful when nothing mattered very much except Philip? She had come far—from Harriston to the little room and now to Brenda's luxurious apartment. She had experienced struggle and fight. And on Monday night in old Ford's theater in Baltimore she would speak words that Philip had written. But the triumph was empty. She had come to be an actress. She was an actress.

"But I'd rather be Philip's wife than the greatest actress in the world. Being a woman in love is more important than being a success. But I'll be like Brenda, loving a man down through the years, a man who can be mine only in my heart."

* * *

It was raining in Baltimore on Monday night. Before eight o'clock the traffic became heavy around old Ford's theater and before the eight-fifteen every seat in the large theater was filled. People were turned away from the box-office and some who were turned away paused to look at photographs of Brenda and Philip Ashley and a striking dark-haired unknown named Karen Mallare.

The lights were dimmed. The rumble of talk and the shuffling of programs ceased. The curtains parted.

In the darkness Philip and Craig found their box.

There were three stories in "Youth Went Yesterday." One was of a middle-aged woman in love with a man years younger than she; another the story of the young girl who loved the same young man; and the other of the young man himself and his inability to decide between the two women. It was written in Philip's brittle forceful style. The scene was a luxurious mountain lodge.

Wearing a gray skirt and a yellow sweater, Karen waited in the wings. Her hands felt weak, her throat tight and dry. Make Philip proud of you! Make Brenda proud of you! Live up to Sidney Kennedy's faith in you! Think how proud Aunt Hetty would be! But most of all, make Philip sorry he did not offer to help you in the beginning! In this you are fighting for the man you love against another woman. But you cannot fight for Philip who will be married next week.

There had been a note from Roxanne that day with a line from Bill. Tommy and Marion had wired.

In the box Philip was leaning forward with his chin in his hand when Karen came on. It was the moment he had been waiting for but after a few minutes his fear for her left him. The feeling he always had on opening night that perhaps this time the play wouldn't "click" left him also—left him because all at once he knew that it was not the play but Karen, slim and young and beautiful who would carry this play to a sweeping success! Not his play, but Brenda, the famous star, but the unknown Karen pouring all her youth and fire and tenderness into the part of the girl!

Craig touched his arm. He looked around.

Low, Craig said, "She's marvelous. And Brenda is giving her every break."

"Yes, she is marvelous," Philip said in a voice not quite so steady or so suave as usual.

The curtains met on the first act. They went down into the lobby to smoke.

* * *

As Philip held a lighter to Craig's cigaret, Craig said, "Steady there," and smiled at him.

Philip smiled. "Jitters. Always have them." Next to him a portly dowager remarked, "Let me find her name! Isn't she too marvelous!"

In an undertone Craig said, "She's good but Brenda is letting her steal it. It's good work, Philip. You have a hit."

"You mean that a new star was born tonight in that first act."

A new star, he thought, when he was in the box again and the curtains parted for the second act. He felt queer and shaken. What was the matter with him? His forehead was warm and moist. The stage was slightly blurred. He had ceased to listen. He thought of leaving and going out into the air but he knew he could not leave until he saw Karen again...

They had met, he and Karen, in a June shower when he had needed diversion. For him, though he had meant to be kind, it had been an adventure to relieve impatience and boredom. The lovely girl in the cheap suit who had nearly lost all her money and who had been standing in the teeming rain on Broadway had amused him!

Amused him! But he was amused no longer! Seeing her now in a red skiing outfit, hearing the rich tones of her voice, Philip knew he loved her, knew that every day since that night in the June shower she had taken more and more possession of him; knew now why he had thought her beautiful with tears shining in her eyes, knew why all desire for Lilyan had left him! It had been Karen moving into his heart!

* * *

Craig looked astonished when Philip left the box.

He went downstairs to the chilly, empty lobby, lighted a cigaret and stepped outside. The October rain was cold. He felt the mist in his face. Leaning against the door, smoking, he knew why he had not been able to sit through one of the best plays he had ever written. A play! What did words written on paper and brought to life in a theater matter when his own life was hopelessly muddled?

In New York Lilyan was buying her trousseau and furniture. The wedding invitations would be mailed this week while—while before the footlights a girl who had moved into his heart was thrilling thousands and he had not known he loved her until tonight—until too late!

When the doors opened and people filled the lobby, he could not believe that the second act was over. For the third and last he went back to the box and sat beside Craig seeing only Karen in a white lace dress.

Afterward he went directly back stage and met a hilarious Sid Kennedy who slapped him on the back and shook his hand. At the door of Brenda's dressing room he paused. Heretofore he had always seen her first. But he passed her door and came to Karen's dressing room and stood for a moment like an awkward boy, afraid to knock, afraid to see her, afraid of himself!

He knocked and said, "It's Philip, Karen."

Silence. Then, "Oh, come in."

* * *

She was still wearing the white lace dress and she was sitting before the dressing table. Her eyes were excited. The wrong word from him, he knew, and she would cry from sheer excitement.

She had been wondering if he would come. She had been sitting quietly, unable to remove her make-up, unable to change into street clothes, thinking of him. She arose and faced him.

Philip could not touch her. He was afraid to touch her. And a man who owed his fame to his skilful use of words found that now he could not find the words for this moment.

"You were wonderful," he said simply. Then he smiled. "Is the applause still ringing in your head?"

For months she had dreamed of this, of his coming to her and saying, "You were wonderful." Now was the time to tell him he had not offered to help her when she had so much needed help.

Meeting his eyes, Karen said, "Thank you, Philip." Tell him! Tell him! You've worked and prayed for this moment! "The first time I met you, Philip, I wondered why you didn't offer to help me. You knew I was alone and didn't know what to do. A word from you would have helped so much. But you walked out of my life. I amused you for one evening and then you walked out!

"I wore out a pair of shoes looking for work. I didn't expect you to give me a big chance like this. I knew I had to prove myself by small parts. I knew I had a lot to learn! But you did nothing. How grand and superior you were and — amused! I hate that word!

Her voice broke a little. "And since that night I've hoped for an opportunity to tell you these things. I have made good. Tommy helped me first. It wasn't his fault that the Tappen play failed. Then Brenda helped me. I've made good in your play. I don't need your help now. I'm glad I never asked for it!"

PICKS NOMINEES

Red Cross Committee to Name Executive Board Candidates.

The nominating committee of the Richland County Red Cross will select candidates this week for the executive board who will be voted on at the annual meeting of the organization Jan. 12 at Red Cross headquarters in the Bowers building.

Mrs. George Draffan is chairman of the nominating committee, with Mrs. John Pierce and Fred Tracy as other members.

The annual meeting is open to every person in the county who became a member of the Red Cross during the annual Roll Call in November. After the new members of the executive board are elected, the board will select its own officers.

The annual reports of the Richland county chapter will be made at the meeting by Gertrude B. English, executive secretary.

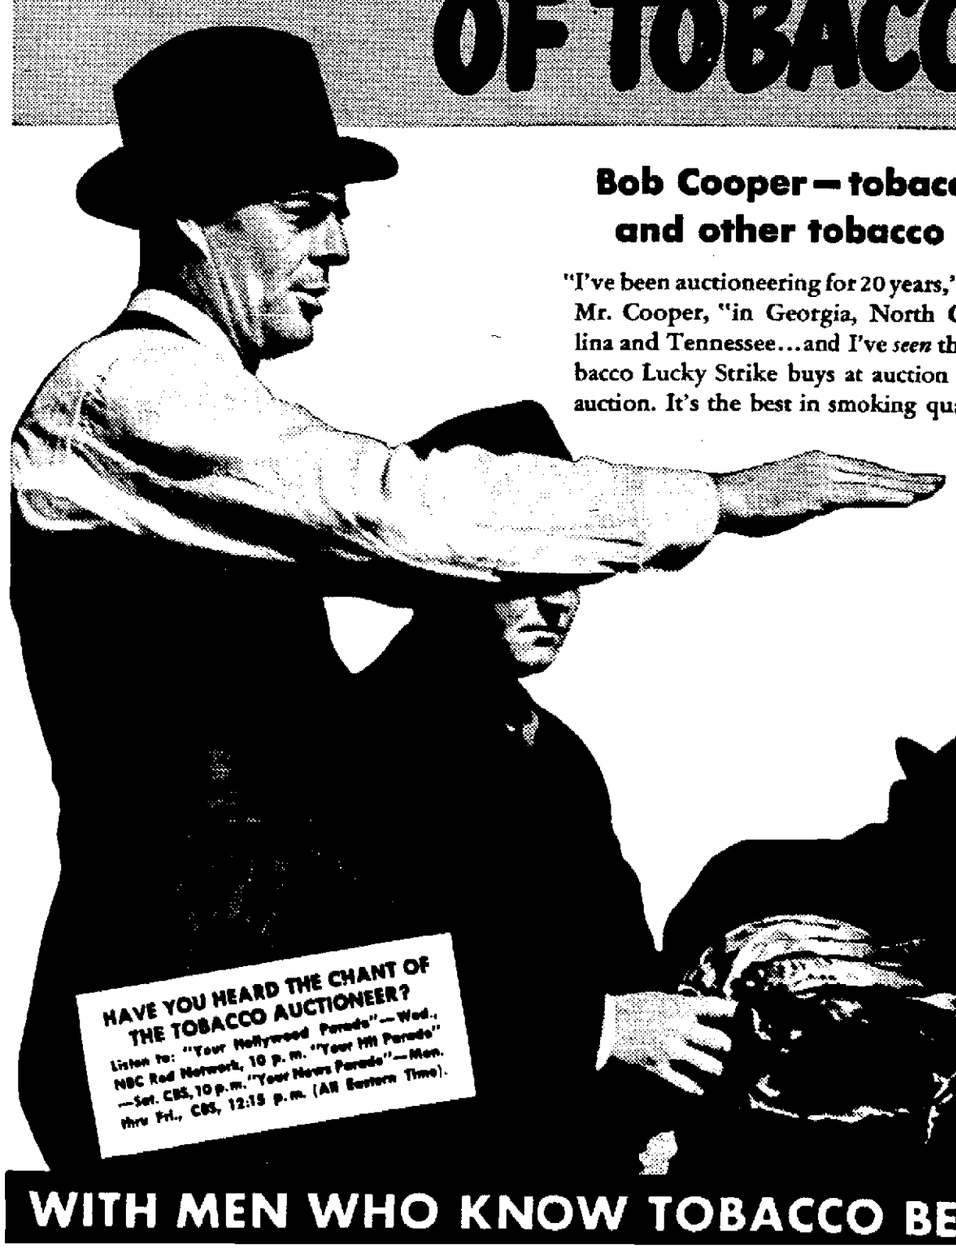
HE SELLS 20 MILLION POUNDS OF TOBACCO A YEAR



Bob Cooper—tobacco auctioneer—tells why he, and other tobacco experts, prefer Luckies . . .

"I've been auctioneering for 20 years," says Mr. Cooper, "in Georgia, North Carolina and Tennessee...and I've seen the tobacco Lucky Strike buys at auction after auction. It's the best in smoking quality. "Luckies suit my throat, too, as well as my taste. Even after crying out bids 7 hours a day, Luckies never bother my throat in the least." (Reason: the exclusive "Toasting" process expels certain irritants found in all tobacco.)

"In every section of the Tobacco Belt where I auctioneer," Mr. Cooper adds, "I've noticed tobacco men smoking Luckies."

Are you benefiting by the experience of the tobacco experts?...Sworn records show that among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice, yes—twice, as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes combined.
